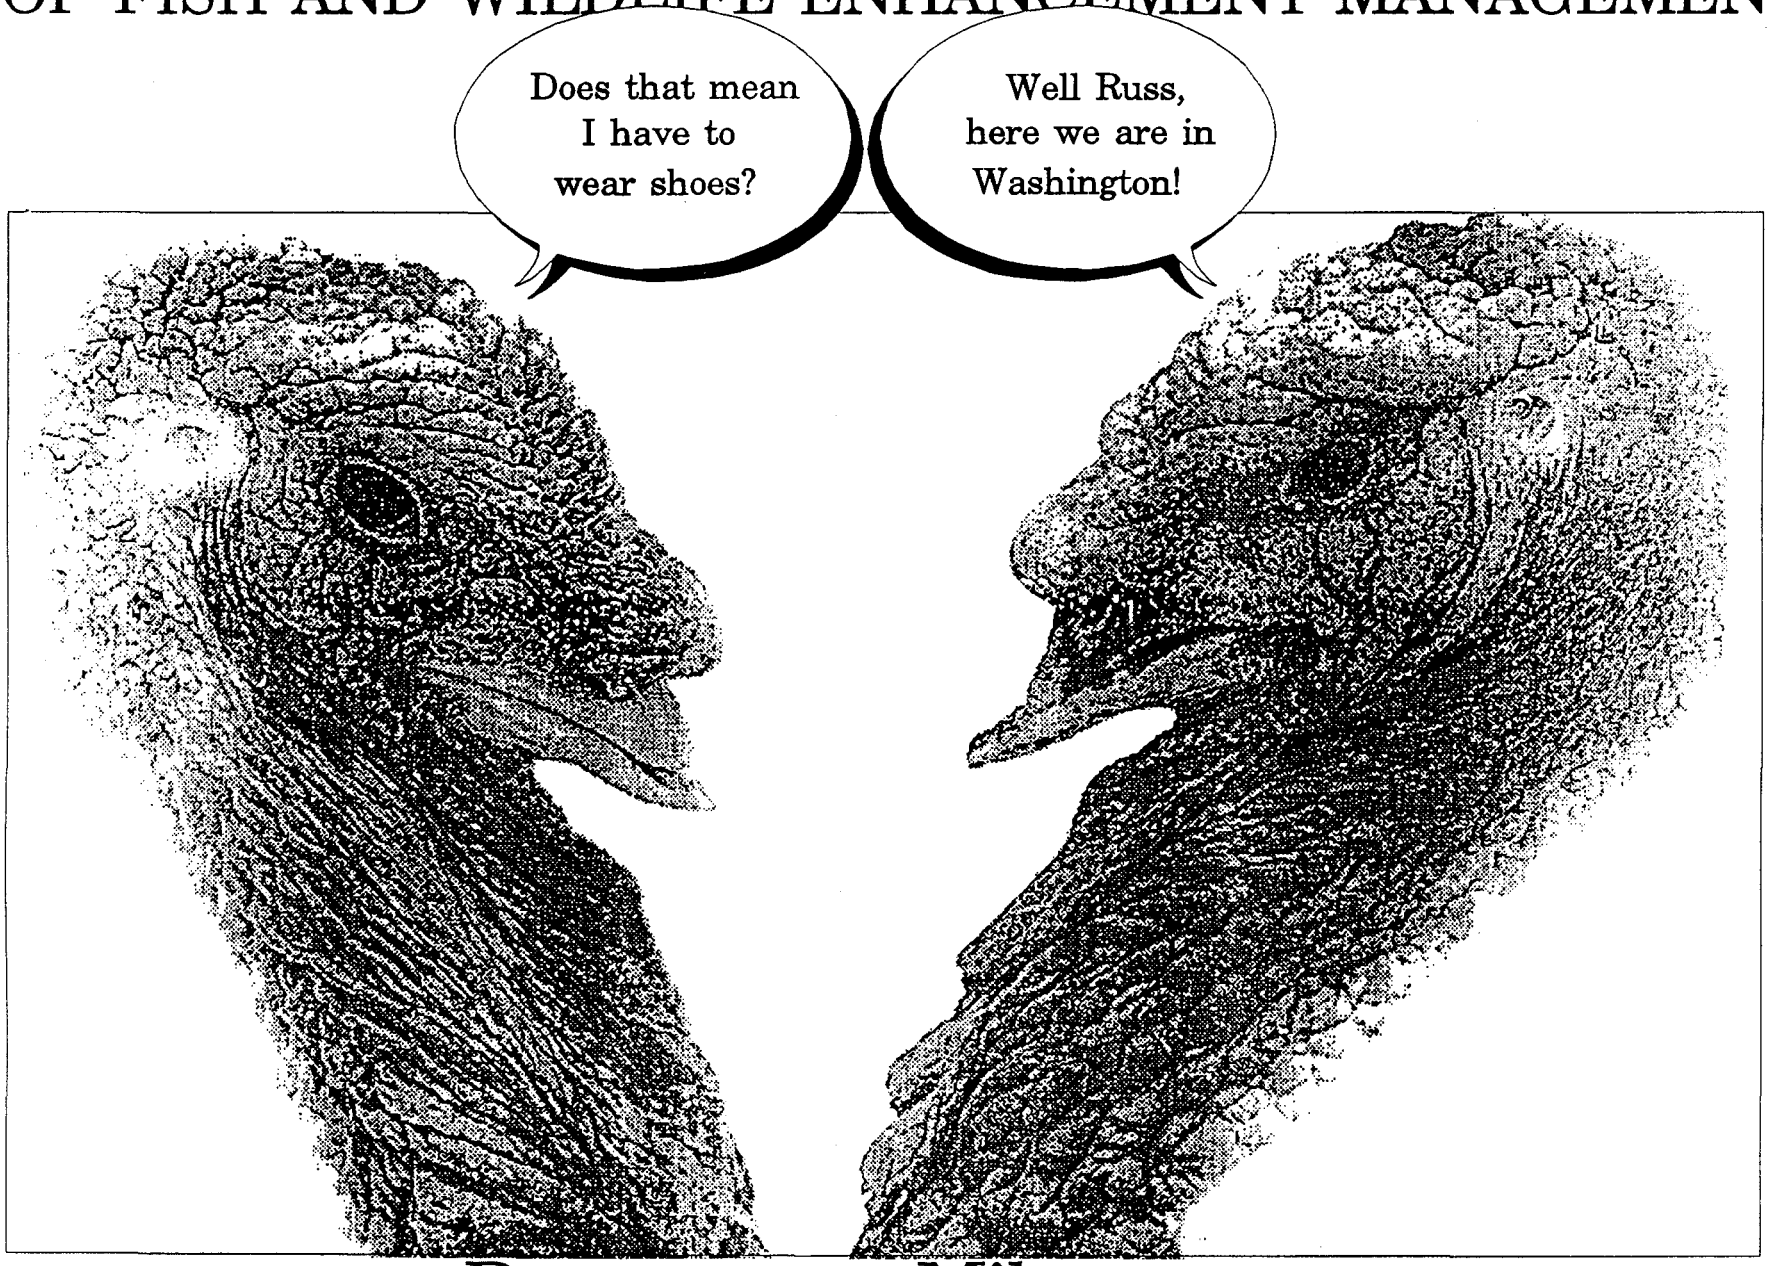
TOP FISH AND WILDLIFE ENHANCEMENT MANAGEMENT



(Alias Clint E.)

HISTORICAL CHRONOLOGY OF FISH AND WILDLIFE SERVICE, AND FISH AND WILDLIFE ENHANCEMENT *

- 1782 - Bald Eagle became the National symbol.
- 1794 - Congress authorized the Corps of Artillerists and Engineers.
- 1818 - First law protecting nongame birds enacted.
- 1849 - U.S. Department of Interior was established.
- 1862 - U.S. Department of Agriculture was established.
- 1869 - First law protecting passenger pigeons was enacted.
- 1871 - U.S. Fish Commission established.
- 1872 - Yellowstone National Park was established, the first in the U.S.
- 1872 - Congress authorized establishment of fish hatcheries.
- 1885 - Division of Economic Ornithology and Mammology established in Department of Agriculture.
- 1891 - Forest Reserves established by President from public domain (now U.S. Forest Service).
- 1896 - Division of Economic Ornithology and Mammalogy became Division of Biological Survey.
- 1899 - River and Harbor Act--established authority for Corps to require permits for construction across, excavating or deposition in, and depositing refuse in navigable waters, etc.
- 1902 - First law passed to protect brown bears in Alaska.
- 1902 - Reclamation (Newlands) Act--established irrigation as a national policy. Led to establishment of the Bureau of Reclamation (now Water and Power Resources).
- 1903 - U.S. Fish Commission placed in new Department of Commerce and Labor and renamed Bureau of Fisheries.
- 1903 - First National Wildlife Refuge established at Pelican Island, Indian River County, Florida by executive order of President Theodore Roosevelt.

*Much of this material was excerpted from the November 1, 1991, Habitat Conservation Functional Unit Analysis report, particularly from its Appendix II, "History of the Division of Ecological Services" credited to Mr. John L. Sypulski for his 1974 work, "A History of River Basin Studies."

- 1905 - Division of Biological Survey became Bureau of Biological Survey.

- 1916 - National Park Service established.

- 1920 - Federal Water Power Act (PL 66-280) established Federal Power Commission (now Federal Energy Regulatory Commission).

- 1934 - The original Fish and Wildlife Coordination Act was enacted. It stressed, among other things, the need for Federal dam-building agencies to consult with the Bureau of Fisheries to provide for mitigation of fish around dams if economically practicable.

- 1934 - J.N. "Ding" Darling was named chief of the Biological Survey.

- 1935 - The Soil Conservation Service was created by the Soil Conservation Act.

- Late 1930's and early 1940's - Several refuges were established at Federal Reservoirs. Many large scale water development projects were constructed. Massive losses of anadromous fish habitat occurred in the far west and northeast.

- 1935 - Federal Power Act - Directed FPC to require non-Federal dam building entities to construct, maintain, and operate fishways. The Columbia River and the Sacramento River Basin received particular attention.

- 1939 - Bureau of Biological Survey was transferred from Department of Agriculture to Department of the Interior, Bureau of Fisheries was transferred from Department of Commerce to Department of the Interior. The two Bureaus merged in 1940 to form the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

- 1940 - The Bald Eagle received full protection throughout the United States.

- 1942 - FWS headquarters and several other civilian agencies moved from Washington, D.C. to Chicago, Illinois, to make room in D.C. for the war effort. The FWS headquarters returned to Washington in late 1947.

- July 1944 - Acting FWS Director, Al Day, ordered the establishment of River Basin Study Committees in the Regions to interact with the Bureau of Reclamation and the Corps of Engineers with the general objective to protect existing FWS facilities (e.g. hatcheries and refuges).

- December 1944 - The Flood Control Act was enacted authorizing a massive number of water development projects for construction and required the Corps, Interior, and States to consider, within limits, recreation, water supply, and irrigation in projects.

- April 1945 - The Office of River Basin Studies (ORBS) was formally established under leadership of Rudolph Dieffenbach. By 1945 Regional Offices had functional RBS offices.

- 1945 - Original ORBS manual issued. Revised in 1946. Second RBS manual produced in 1953, third in 1962, forth in 1969, and fifth in 1980.

- 1946 - The Bureau of Land Management was established.

- 1946 - Fish and Wildlife Coordination Act was amended. Implementation of FWS recommendations was left to the discretion of the construction agencies.

- 1946 and 1947 - Two National meetings were organized and hosted by ORBS at Fox Lake, Illinois.

- July 1948 - A RBS field office was established in Vicksburg, Mississippi.

- 1948 - Federal Water Pollution Control Act was passed establishing Pollution Control Boards (now Environmental Protection Agency).

- 1949 - Aldo Leopold's "Sand County Almanac" was published.

- October 1952 - RBS Regional Supervisor's Conference was held at Merit Lodge, Leech Lake, Walker, Minnesota.

- 1952-1954 - First National Wetlands Inventory was conducted.

- September 1954 - RBS Regional Supervisor's Conference held in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

- 1954 - Watershed Protection and Flood Prevention Act authorized "PL 566" projects by SCS for small watersheds; established Farmers Home Administration.

- 1955 - National Survey of Hunting and Fishing Activity was begun, originally an RBS idea. Realty activities also were often handled by RBS, particularly involving FWS acquisition of wetlands in the midwest.

- 1956 - Fish and Wildlife Act of 1956, FWS was reorganized into the Bureau of Sport Fisheries & Wildlife (BSFW) and Bureau of Commercial Fisheries (BCF).

- 1956 - ORBS became the Branch of River Basin Studies in the new BSFW.

- 1950's - Many new RBS Field Offices were established as workloads expanded.

- 1958 - Fish and Wildlife Coordination Act (FWCA) was amended - significantly strengthened the FWS position with construction agencies and set stage for more complete reforms for years to come.

- 1960 - Major change in RBS funding took place, lump sum transfers from construction agencies occurred at Washington office level, larger scale Resource Management Appropriations were obtained, more RBS field offices were established.

- 1962 - Rachael Carson's book, "Silent Spring", was published.

- 1963 - Clean Air Act was passed to regulate air pollution.

- 1964 - The Service's regional contaminant operation activities began in the Division of Fishery Services. In 1966, this activity was expanded with the establishment of regional pesticide use specialist positions in the Division of Wildlife Services.

- October 1964 - RBS Regional Supervisor's Conference held in Washington, D.C.

- 1964 - BRBS was made a Division.

- 1965 - Federal Water Project Recreation Act (PL 89-72) was passed; amended FWCA to clarify allocation of costs for mitigation and enlarged authority for enhancement to include "facilities."

- 1966 - First Endangered Species Act passed to "conserve and protect, where practical, native species of fish and wildlife that are threatened with extinction." It provided for listing, buying habitat, conducting research, and propagation. No prohibitions on "taking" included.

- 1967 - Mr. Harry Goodwin filled initial Endangered Species staff specialist position in Washington, D.C. office.

- February 1967 - Zabel/Russell vs Tabb permit Pinellas County, Florida was denied by the Secretary of the Army. The first time a project was denied based on fish and wildlife resources and the FWCA.

- 1967 - Responsibility for nontraditional DRBS activities, highway project review and real estate work, were assumed by other FWS entities.

- May 1967 - RBS Regional Supervisor's Conference held in Stateline, Nevada.

- July 1967 - The Corps of Engineers negotiated the first Memorandum of Understanding with the Department of the Interior providing a means to elevate disputed permit actions to the Washington level.

- 1968 - Congress passed the Wild and Scenic rivers Act to preserve free-flowing rivers in their natural states.

- 1968 - The National Estuary Protection Act provided for a RBS large scale evaluation of the nation's estuaries.

- 1969 - National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) passed and served as a catalyst to force changes by construction agencies; established Council on Environmental Quality.

- 1970 - The first Earth Day highlighted beginning of new era for conserving the environment.

- 1970 - Water pollution control actions were pulled out of Department of the Interior and the new Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) was formed.

- October 1970 - BCF was removed from Interior and placed in the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) within the Department of Commerce and renamed the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS), per President Nixon's Reorganization Plan IV.

- 1970 - RBS presence was reestablished in Alaska (Anchorage, Alaska field office opened in July 1951).

- 1971 - Zabel/Russell vs Tabb permit case in Florida affirmed by U.S. Supreme Court the Corps of Engineers' ability to deny Section 10 permits on basis of impacts on fish and wildlife resources.

- 1971 - Many new RBS positions and funds were available with emphasis on coastal problems.

- 1971 - Endangered Species and International Affairs Specialists positions combined to form Office of Endangered Species and International Affairs in Washington, D.C.

- 1971 - Watershed Memorandum 108 revised all stream channelization projects by all agencies nationwide.

- 1971 - A special task force produced an Action Report detailing needed changes in RBS/ES programs, etc.

- 1972 - The first ban on the use of DDT, in the United States.

- 1972 - Federal Water Pollution Control Act amended, established Section 402 Discharge Permits.

- October 1972 - Coastal Zone Management Act was passed requiring all Federal activities to comply with State approved management programs.

- 1973 - DRBS name changed to Division of Ecological Services (DES).

- Early 1970's DES launched major effort to develop a series of guidance/background handbooks for ES field biologists.

- December 1973 - RBS National Conference held in Albuquerque, New Mexico. First meeting where Field Supervisors were included in national meeting.

- 1973 - FWS Program management System went into operation.

- 1973 - An expanded Endangered Species Act (ESA) passed. Full impact not felt in ES programs until about 1980. For the first time Federal funds for State-administered endangered species programs were provided.

- 1974 - New Office of Biological Services (OBS) Program was created to increase FWS cadre of expertise and knowledge in the areas of energy development, ecosystems evaluations, etc.; and to conduct operational research.

- 1974 - National Wetlands Inventory (NWI) Project was initiated by OBS program. It became operational in 1979.

- Mid 1970's - OBS Research and Development efforts developed Ecological Planning and Evaluation Procedures (EP2), later known as Habitat Evaluation Procedures (HEP) and Instream Flow Incremental Methodology (IFIM) designed to deal with habitat loss and streamflow issues, respectively.

- 1973-1974 - Contaminant operations, monitoring, and research activities were consolidated into the Environmental Contaminant Evaluation Program under the Program Manager for Environment and Research.

- April 1974 - BSFW redesignated as U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

- 1975 - A major court case, NRDC vs Callaway established that Section 404 of the Clean Water Act did apply to wetlands of the U.S.

- 1976 - FWS implemented the Area Office management concept nationwide. (Region 6 established area offices in 1973.)

- Late 1970's - Endangered Species offices were established in Regional Offices.

- May 1977 - President Carter signed an Executive Order establishing Federal government policy to preserve and protect wetlands.

- 1977 - Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act passed.

- 1977 - Protection of Wetlands (EO 11990) required Federal Agencies to minimize destruction, loss, or degradation of wetlands.

- October 1978 - Ecological Services National Conference held in Atlanta, Georgia.

- 1978 - The Endangered American Wilderness Act placed over one million acres of land into the wilderness protection system.

- 1978 - Endangered Species Act Amendment established Endangered Species Interagency Committee to review and determine whether exemptions should be granted.

- 1979 - Branch of Contaminant Operations was established within the Division of Ecological Services.

- 1979 - Endangered Species Act Amendment; expanded the Act to protect plants.

- March 1980 - Ecological Services National conference held in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

- 1980 - The Fish and Wildlife Conservation Act was passed to help provide funds to develop State non-game programs - never funded.

- 1981 - The FWS Mitigation Policy was formulated. This translated the intent of the Coordination Act into a habitat perspective.

- October 1981 - Habitat Preservation National Conference held in Warm Springs, Oregon.

- October 1982 - Area Office management concept was discontinued, Area offices closed.

- October 1982 - Habitat Preservation National Conference held in Harpers Ferry, West Virginia.

- 1982 - The Division of Resource Contaminant Assessment (RCA) was formed under Associate Director Environment to provide increased operational support and coordination. Regional RCA Coordinators were staffed in the Regional Offices of Ecological Services.

- 1982 - Biological Services office moved under Associate Director of Research.

- 1982 - Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) established between DOI and Army to implement Section 404(q) of Clean Water Act.

- 1983-1984 - the RCA field operation activities began staffing at the field level under the direction of the Ecological Services Field Supervisors.

- 1983-1984 - Wetlands achieved new prominence. National Wetlands Inventory prepared the first wetlands status and trends report.

- March 1985 - Ecological Services Conference held in Leesburg, Virginia.

- 1985 - The Electric Consumers Protection Act was enacted. It amended the Federal Power Act to give FWS full and equal standing in license matters affecting fish and wildlife resources.

- 1985 - The Food Security Act (Farm Bill) was enacted containing provision to reduce soil erosion, improve water quality and wildlife habitat, and discourage conversion of pasture, wetlands, and forest lands to cropland.

- By 1985 - Environmental Contaminants personnel were added to field stations to deal with increased contaminant workload.

- November 1985 - Ecological Services Conference held in Wheeling, West Virginia to address MOA with the Department of the Army.

- November 1985 - Revised MOA between DOI and Army was developed to implement Section 404(q) of the Clean Water Act.

- 1986 - The Division of Resource Contaminant Assessment was renamed the Division of Environmental Contaminants (DEC).

- 1986 - Endangered Species and Resource Contaminant Assessment Programs were merged with Ecological Services Program.

- 1986 - Section 7 consultations under ESA were delegated to field stations.

- 1986 - The Emergency Wetlands Resources Act strengthened wetland conservation programs.

- 1986 - Ecological Services, Endangered Species, Federal Aid, and Environmental Contaminants were merged under the Fish and Wildlife Enhancement (FWE) Program. The Office of Biological Services under Research was abolished.

- 1986 - North American Waterfowl Management Plan (NAWMP) was signed and implemented. FWE Field Stations participated in various Joint Venture projects.

- 1986 - The Water Resource Development Act of 1986 was the first major water project legislation in a decade, authorizing a massive backlog of COE projects, including many major fish and wildlife mitigation programs. New cost sharing requirements for projects were instituted.

- 1986 - The Service's Program Management System was dissolved/terminated.
- 1987 - Clean Water Act passed setting standards for water quality and use.
- September 1987 - At Washington Office level, the Division of ES was reorganized into the Division of Endangered Species and Habitat Conservation, in August 1990 this Division was separated into the former two Divisions.
- 1988 - President Bush called for a national policy of "No Net Loss of Wetlands."
- 1980's - Ecological Services began a Bay-Estuary Program beginning with Chesapeake Bay in the Northeast and expanding to all coasts. Emphasis was on proactive measures to protect and restore coastal areas.
- 1985-1990 - The Endangered Species Act had a major impact on FWE field station workloads, particularly in association with Section 7 consultations and species listing.
- By 1988-1989 - All FWE Field Offices had personnel actively involved in contaminant activities.
- 1988 - Endangered Species Act was reauthorized. Some significant revisions were: recovery plans will receive public review; increased emphasis on plants; delisted species will be monitored for 5 years; and candidate species will be tracked.
- 1989 - A common Federal Manual for Delineating Wetlands was agreed to.
- August 1990 - At Washington level the Division of SE and Habitat Conservation was split into the Division of Endangered Species and Division of Habitat Conservation. These Divisions and the Division of Environmental Contaminants make up the bulk of the present Fish and Wildlife Enhancement field activity.
- 1990 - Food, Agriculture, Conservation, and Trade Act amended the Food Security Act of 1985 (Farm Bill); wetlands conservation provisions were strengthened.
- 1990 - Clean Air Act revised, strengthened emission regulations.
- 1991 - Wetland Delineation Manual was reexamined and field tested.
- 1991 - North American Wetland Conservation Act came into being organizing wetland restoration projects across the country. First update of Wetland Status and Trends in conterminous United States.

- 1992 - Wetland Delineation Manual is being revised.

- 1992 - The Endangered Species Act is up for reauthorization. The spotted owl, gray wolf, critical habitat, economics, etc., issues have injected added controversy and interest into this reauthorization.

- 1991-1992 - Functional Unit Analysis Reports were prepared by special intra-Service teams for Habitat Conservation, Endangered Species, and Environmental Contaminants Activities. The reports evaluated these activities and presented recommendations for future operations.

- August 1992 - National Fish and Wildlife Enhancement Project Leaders Training Workshop, held in Aspen, Colorado.

- 1995 - The Division of Ecological Services of FWE will observe its 50th year of existence.

HISTORICAL LEADERSHIP
FWS - FWE

Commissioners
U.S. Fish Commission, and
U.S. Bureau of Fisheries
(1871 - 1940)

U.S. Fish Commission - established February 9, 1871, as an independent agency

	Commissioner	Dates
1.	Dr. Spencer Fullerton Baird	1871 - August 19, 1887
2.	Dr. G. Browne Goode	August 1887 - February 1888
3.	Col. Marshall McDonald	February 18, 1888 - September 1, 1895
	Herbert A. Gill (Acting Commissioner)	September 1, 1895 - March 30, 1896
4.	Capt. John J. Brice	March 30, 1896 - February 15, 1898
5.	George M. Bowers	February 16, 1898 - 1913

U.S. Fish Commission became Bureau of Fisheries - July 1, 1903, in the new Department of the Commerce and Labor

6.	Dr. Hugh M. Smith	1913 - 1922
7.	Henry O'Malley	1922 - 1933
8.	Frank T. Bell	1933 - March 1939
	Charles E. Jackson (Acting Commissioner)	1939 - 1940

U.S. Bureau of Fisheries transferred from the Department of Commerce to the Department of the Interior on July 1, 1939, and combined with the Bureau of Biological Survey on June 30, 1940, to form the Fish and Wildlife Service.

Directors
Division of Economic Ornithology and Mamalogy
and
Bureau of Biological Survey
(1885 - 1940)

Division of Economic Ornithology and Mamalogy established in the Department of Agriculture in 1885

Directors	Dates
1. Dr. Clinton Hart Merriam	July 1, 1885 - 1910

Renamed Division of Biological Survey in 1896 and given Bureau status in 1905.

2. Henry Wetherbee Henshaw	1910 - 1916
3. Dr. Edward William Nelson	1916 - 1927
4. Paul Goodwin Redington	1927 - 1934
5. Jay Norwood "Ding" Darling	March 1934 - November 1935
6. Dr. Ira N. Gabrielson	November 1935 - July 1, 1940

Bureau of Biological Survey transferred from the Department of Agriculture to the Department of the Interior on July 1, 1939, and combined with the Bureau of Fisheries on June 30, 1940, to form the Fish and Wildlife Service.

DIRECTORS

Fish and Wildlife Service
Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, and
Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife
(1940 - 1992)

The Fish and Wildlife Service was created on June 30, 1940, by combining the two relatively small Bureaus of Fisheries and Biological Survey into one organization.

Directors	Dates
1. Dr. Ira N. Gabrielson	July 1, 1940 - April 1, 1946
2. Albert M. Day	April 1, 1946 - May 25, 1953
3. Col. John Leverett Farley	May 25, 1953 - March 14, 1957

The Fish and Wildlife Act of 1956 renamed the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, created the positions of Assistant Secretary for Fish and Wildlife and Commissioner of Fish and Wildlife; and, established two bureaus in the Service, Bureau of Commercial Fisheries and Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife. This reorganization was effective on November 6, 1956, and completed in 1959.

Bureau of Commercial Fisheries
(1956 - 1992)

(NOTE: The following information on BCF/NMFS needs more research.)

1. Donald L. McKernan	April 2, 1957 - (c 1965-66)
2. H.E. (Skip) Crowther	(c.1966 - 67)
3. Philip M. Roedel	(c.1967 - 69)
4. Robert Schoening	?

On October 3, 1970, President Richard M. Nixon's Reorganization Plan IV transferred the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries back to the U.S. Department of Commerce, and renamed it the National Marine Fisheries Service in the newly created National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration. The Chief Executive Officer has the title, Assistant Administrator for Fisheries.

5. Terry Lightsell	(c. 1981)
6. William G. Gordan	(c. 1981 - 1986)
7. William E. Evans	September 24, 1986 - ?
James W. Brennan	c. 1992

Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife
(1956 - 1992)

	Directors	Dates
1.	Daniel H. Janzen	March 14, 1957 - October 15, 1964
2.	John S. Gottschalk	December 1, 1964 - October 1970
3.	Spencer H. Smith	December 1970 - August 1973

In 1970, President Richard M. Nixon's Reorganization Plan IV transferred the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries back to the Department of Commerce, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, as the National Marine Fisheries Service.

4.	Lynn A. Greenwalt	November 12, 1973 - January 1981

The Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife was renamed by an Act of Congress in April 1974, as the United States Fish and Wildlife Service.

	F. Eugene Hester, Ph.D. (Acting Director)	January 1981 - November 1981
5.	Robert A. Jantzen	November 9, 1981 - September 28, 1985
	F. Eugene Hester, Ph.D. (Acting Director)	September 29, 1985 - May 7, 1986
6.	Frank H. Dunkle	May 8, 1986 - March 15, 1989
	Susan Recce Lamson (Acting Director in capacity as Deputy Assistant Secretary for Fish and Wildlife and Parks)	March 16, 1989 - June 11, 1989
	Steve Robinson (Acting Director)	June 12, 1989 - August 3, 1989
7.	John F. Turner	August 4, 1989 - present

Assistant Secretaries
Fish and Wildlife and Parks
U.S. Department of the Interior
(1957 - 1992)

	Assistant Secretary	Dates
1.	Ross L. Lefler	January 2, 1957 - January 20, 1961
2.	Frank P. Briggs	March 24, 1961 - February 28, 1965
3.	Stanley A. Cain	May 21, 1965 - August 24, 1968
4.	Clarence F. Pautzke	October 4, 1968 - February 14, 1969
5.	Leslie L. Glasgow, Ph.D.	March 21, 1969 - November 27, 1970
6.	Nathaniel P. Reed	May 11, 1971 - January 19, 1977
7.	Robert L. Herbst	April 1, 1977 - January 30, 1981
8.	G. Ray Arnett	May 15, 1981 - December 1984
9.	William P. Horn	August 1, 1985 - July 1, 1988
10.	Becky Norton Dunlap	November 23, 1988 - June 9, 1989
11.	Constance B. Harriman	August 2, 1989 - June 1, 1991
12.	Michael J. Hayden	June 18, 1991 - present

DIVISION CHIEFS *

Division of River Basin Studies or Ecological Services or Endangered Species and Habitat Conservation or Habitat Conservation (1945 - 1992)

	Chief	Dates
1.	Rudolph Dieffenbach, Forester	April 1945 - December 1952
2.	James T. McBroom, Economist	February 1953 - July 1960
3.	William M. White, Economist	July 1960 - June 1971
	In 1965, Office was raised to Division status
4.	Daniel W. Slater, Fishery Biologist	July 1971 - June 1972
5.	Jerry L. Stegman, Fishery Biologist	August 1971 - August 1974
	In October 1973, Division's name changed to Ecological Services
	Norman R., Chupp, Wildlife Biologist (Acting Chief)	August 1974 - March 1975
6.	Alfred C. Fox, Fishery Biologist	April 1975 - October 1977
	Richard K. Robinson, Fishery Biologist (Acting Chief)	November 1977 - January 1978
7.	Warren T. Olds, Jr., Wildlife Biologist	February 17, 1978 - June 27, 1982
	Russell D. Earnest, Wildlife and Fishery Biologist (Acting Chief)	June 1982 - April 1983
8.	Marvin E. Moriarty, Fishery Biologist	April 3, 1983 - June 21, 1986
	Russell D. Earnest, Wildlife and Fishery Biologist (Acting Chief)	June 1986 - July 1986
9.	Larry Shanks, Fish and Wildlife Biologist (Acting Chief)	July 1986 - November 1986
10.	Raymond L. Fritz, Fishery Biologist	November 1986 - March 1987

In September 1987, at the Washington, D.C. headquarters, the Division of Ecological Services and the Office of Endangered Species were combined as the Division of Endangered Species and Habitat Conservation.

1st Acting Chief, William E. Knapp	September 1987 - December 1987
2nd Acting Chief, Robert P. Smith	January 1988 - June 1988
11. William E. Knapp	June 5, 1988 - May 16, 1992

In August 1990, at the Washington, D.C. headquarters, the Division of Endangered Species and Habitat Conservation was separated into two Divisions; Habitat Conservation and Endangered Species.

William E. Knapp	-- Chief, Division of Habitat Conservation
Larry R. Shannon, Ph.D.	-- Chief, Division of Endangered Species

A BIT OF FWE LEVITY

Published in BROADSIDE #31, September 1963

A FAREWELL TO FISH & WILDLIFE
by Earl T. Walker, c 1963

(Tune: Wabash Cannonball)

Along the coasts both East & West
They're dredging fit to kill.
In places it's for channels
And in others just for fill.
Yes, they're building oil refiners
And new houses more and more.
But where will all our fishes go
When there ain't no friendly shore.

In the shallow inshore waters
The young fishes grow and grow
But the suction, dredge and dragline
Leave no place for them to go.
Yes, the oysters, clams and scallops
They are covered up with silt,
There go our seafood dinners
When the makings are all killed.

The waters of our Nation
Once flowed so clean and pure,
Now the roily, oily billows
Have an odor of manure.
Mine-acid wastes and effluents
From industry and home
Are covered as they putrefy
With a thick detergent foam.

Yes, they're filling up the marshes
In spreading garbage dumps
And our estuaries and rivers
Are just smelly sewage sumps.
They're draining all our wetlands
They're filling all the swamps,
Yes, our waterfowl will soon be gone
When they've lost their marshy haunts.

Soon with Government assistance
All the potholes will be drained
Then thruout the great Dakotas
You would never know it rained.
Tho it once raised ducks by millions,
And the flocks just filled the sky,
In the name of glorious progress
We may see the last duck die.

If you want to leave your children
Some remnant of the past
Just a little sad reminder
Of resources once so vast,
Don't let them drain the marshes
Don't let them ruin the shore
Let's keep some fish and wildlife
For our children evermore.

The song above is reminiscent of Woody Guthrie's Columbia River songs. In fact, the author has much of Woody's rich facility in the use of words. We predict that the special August, 1963, Woody Guthrie issue of the magazine MAINSTREAM will quickly become a collector's item. Among its contents are a series of "Woody Sez" articles Woody wrote for a N.Y. newspaper in 1939, reprinted now for the first time, a long poem "My Freedom Fire" Woody wrote in 1951 and published now for the first time, several articles on Woody by Pete Seeger and others who knew him, etc. Send .50 to MAINSTREAM, 832 Broadway, New York 3, N.Y.

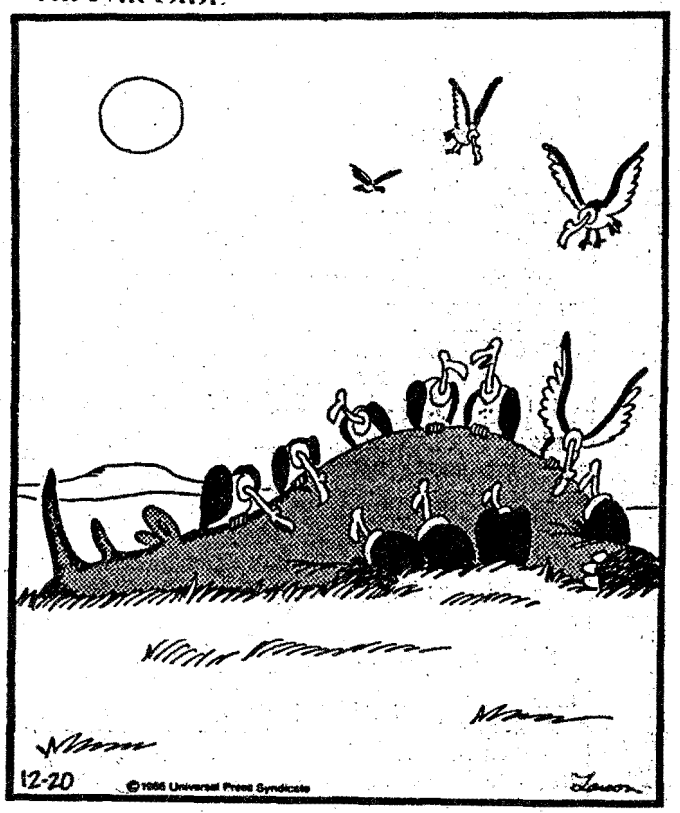
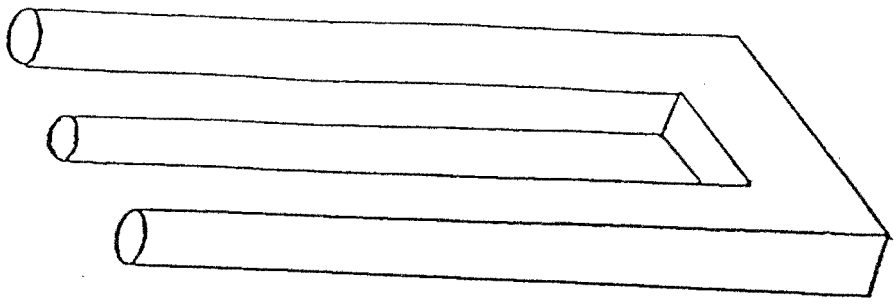
THE FAR SIDE



"Just think . . . . Here we are, the afternoon sun beating down on us, a dead, bloated rhino underfoot, and good friends flying in from all over . . . . I tell you, Frank, this is the best of times."



"Truisms"

Credit goes to the University of Wyoming faculty lounge for compiling most of the following THOUGHTS TO GET YOU THROUGH ALMOST ANY CRISIS.

1. Indecision is the key to flexibility.
2. There is always one more S.O.B. than you counted on.
3. If you ever find something you like, buy a lifetime supply because they will stop making it.
4. All things being equal, fat people use more soap.
5. You can't tell which way the train went by looking at the track.
6. Be kind, everyone you meet is fighting a tough battle.
7. This is as bad as it can get, but don't bet on it.
8. There is absolutely no substitute for a genuine lack of preparation.
9. By the time you can make ends meet, they move the ends.
10. Happiness is merely the remission of pain.
11. Nostalgia isn't what it used to be.
12. Sometimes too much to drink is not enough.
13. The facts, although interesting, are irrelevant.
14. The world gets a little better every day and worse in the evening.
15. The careful application of terror is also a form of communication.
16. Not one shred of evidence exists in favor of the idea that life is serious.
17. Someone who thinks logically is a nice contrast to the real world.
18. Things are more like they are today than they ever have been before.
19. The other line always moves faster until you get in it.
20. Anything worth fighting for is worth fighting dirty for.
21. Everything should be made as simple as possible but no simpler.
22. Friends may come and go but enemies accumulate.
23. It's hard to be nostalgic when you can't remember anything.
24. I have seen the truth and it makes no sense.
25. To live forever, acquire a chronic disease and take care of it.
26. Suicide is the most sincere form of self-criticism.
27. If you think that there is good in everybody, you haven't met everybody.
28. History is just one damn thing after another. Harry Truman
29. If you can smile when things go wrong, you have someone in mind for blame.
30. One-seventh of your life is spent on Monday.
31. The more you run over a dead cat, the flatter it gets.

EVERYDAY OF MY LIFE I'M FORCED TO ADD ANOTHER NAME TO THE LIST OF PEOPLE WHO CAN JUST KISS MY PATUTTIE!
