

Resources Library Moves

Librarian Martha Shepard of Alaska Resources Library hands another book up to Assistant Librarian Pat Scott as they stock the shelves in the library's new quarters at 733 West Fourth Ave. in Anchorage.

In the same building as the Joint Federal-State Land Use Planning Commission, the library has more space and a more accessible location than when it was housed with BLM's Alaska State Office.

Farthest north U.S. Department of Interior library in the country, it offers books on Alaska resources for use by federal and state agencies, scholars, and the public. The move took place in November.
