Submission Text:

I think the Donlin Creek mine is a bad idea because it will have a bad affect at the end. I learned that it may affect the land and animals, and even humans around the area. If something goes wrong, it will highly impact us humans, the animals around it and the future generations to come. I want to be able to see subsistence hunting and gathering as I'm growing older, and would want my future children and grand children to do so as well.
