CIVIL NO. 4993

FINAL PHASE II DECREE

COVERING THE UNITED STATES' NON-INDIAN CLAIMS

THIS MATTER came before the Court upon the Joint Motion for Entry of Final Phase II Decree filed by the State of Wyoming and the United States of America ("United States"). In an effort to settle disputes concerning the existence and extent of the non-Indian claims of the United States to water in this adjudication, the United States and the State of Wyoming have stipulated to the terms of this Decree and moved for approval of a Final Decree adjudicating the water rights of the United States that are the subject of Phase II of the General Adjudication of water rights in the Big Horn River System. Based upon the pleadings, the evidence presented to the Court, and arguments of counsel, the Court has determined that entry of the "Final Phase II Decree Covering the United States' Non-Indian Claims" ("Final Phase II Decree"), as submitted by the United States of America and the State of Wyoming, is appropriate at this time.

Timely and adequate notice of the filing and contents of the proposed Final Phase II Decree was given pursuant to Court Order. Notice of the Joint Motion for Entry of the Final Phase II Decree was given to all parties and counsel on the current court mailing list for this adjudication and published in at least three newspapers of general circulation in the Big Horn Basin. The proposed Final Phase II Decree was physically available for review at numerous places throughout Division 3. Notice was given of the opportunity and procedure for objecting to the entry of the proposed Final Phase II Decree.

The time for filing opposition to the entry of the proposed Final Phase II Decree and for seeking leave to intervene has expired. The following parties filed objections to the entry of the proposed Decree:

[Insert names of any objectors]

Each party who made an objection to the entry of this Final Phase II Decree was given an opportunity to be heard by the Court. The Court has jurisdiction over the subject matter of this proceeding and over all persons and owners of property affected hereby, irrespective of whether or not those persons and owners of property have appeared.

The Court has assured that each party affected by this Final Phase II Decree has received due process of law. The Court finds that entry of this Final Phase II Decree is proper.

THE COURT, THEREFORE, ORDERS, ADJUDGES AND DECREES the following:

I. Definitions

For the purposes of this Final Phase II Decree, the following definitions shall apply:

A. Alluvial Aquifer

An "alluvial aquifer" is an unconsolidated stream laid deposit of comparatively recent age that has a direct and demonstrable hydraulic connection to a nearby surface stream and that is capable of producing water, as from a well.

B. Consumptive Use

"Consumptive use" is that amount of water which is consumed during a beneficial use of water.

C. Discrete Use

A "discrete use" is a measurable and identifiable use of water on the Bighorn National Forest or Shoshone National Forest, which use is shown and described on the United States Forest Service's annually updated printouts of current and foreseeable uses on land reserved from the public domain pertaining to the Bighorn National Forest and the Shoshone National Forest. A discrete use (as opposed to, for example, seeps, springs, instream flows, etc.) is also a measurable and identifiable use of water on any other federal land. A "discrete use" includes a future use of water.

D. Diversion

A "diversion" is the removal of water from its natural course or location by means of a ditch, canal, flume, reservoir, bypass, pipeline, conduit, well, pump, or other structure or device.

E. Existing Water Right Permitted or Certificated Under Wyoming Law

An "Existing Water Right Permitted or Certificated Under Wyoming Law" is any permitted, certificated or decreed water right authorized or applied for under Wyoming law as of December 31, 1984.

F. Multiple Use-Sustained Yield Act

G. Natural Flow

"Natural flow" is that flow of water which, recognizing normal annual and seasonal variations, will occur within any natural stream, spring, or seep as the result of the overall hydrologic characteristics of the basin, undisturbed by the activities of man or animals, within which the natural stream, spring, or seep is located.

H. Natural Inflow

"Natural Inflow" is that flow of water which, recognizing normal annual and seasonal variations, will flow in a natural stream into a natural lake as the result of the overall hydrologic characteristics of the basin, undisturbed by the activities of man or animals, within which the natural stream and natural lake are located.

I. Natural Lake

A "natural lake" is a permanent body of water not created by the activity of man or animals which is substantially at rest in a depression in the surface of the earth and which may or may not have a natural stream flowing into or out of it.

J. Natural Level

"Natural level" is that amount of water, measured in feet above sea level which, recognizing normal annual and seasonal variations, will exist within any natural lake as the result of the overall hydrologic characteristics of the basin, undisturbed by the activities of man or animals, within which the natural lake is located.

K. Natural Outflow

"Natural outflow" is that flow of water which, recognizing normal annual and seasonal variations, will flow in a natural stream from a natural lake as the result of the overall hydrologic characteristics of the basin, undisturbed by the activities of man or animals, within which the natural stream and natural lake exist.

A "natural stream" is a permanently flowing body of water not created by the activity of man or animals which has a definite channel with a bed and banks and which is not a spring or seep.

M. Organic Act of 1897

O. Seep

A "seep" is a spot or location of discharge of groundwater to the surface in an amount constituting a small pond, pool, or wet area which normally evaporates from the ground surface.

P. Spring

A "spring" is defined as a concentrated discharge of groundwater to the ground surface in an amount constituting a small flowing stream or rivulet.

Q. Transbasin Diversion

A "transbasin diversion" is a diversion of water for any purpose or use, consumptive or otherwise, from one basin to another basin, from one sub-basin to another sub-basin, from a basin to a sub-basin, or from a sub-basin to a basin.

R. Tributary

Water is "tributary" if its movement or occurrence affects to any extent whatsoever the flow of or level of water on the land surface.

S. Underground Water

"Underground water" is any water, including hot water and geothermal steam, under the surface of the land or the bed of any stream, lake, reservoir, or other body of surface water, including water that has been exposed to the surface by an excavation such as a pit. For purposes of this Final Phase II Decree, the term "groundwater" shall be defined in the same manner as "underground water".

T. Well

A "well" is any artificial opening or excavation in the ground, however made, by which underground water is sought or through which it flows under natural pressure or is artificially withdrawn, and a series of wells developed as a unit and pumped collectively by a single pumping unit shall be considered as one well.

U. Wyoming Law

The term "Wyoming law" shall refer to and include both the procedural and the substantive components of the constitutional, statutory, and decisional law of the State of Wyoming.

II. General Provisions

The following general provisions apply to this Final Phase II Decree:

A. Administration

1. The rights of the United States under this Decree shall in the first instance be administered by the State of Wyoming in accordance with the terms set forth herein. Prior to seeking judicial enforcement of any right under this Decree, the United States shall first request the State Engineer to exercise his administrative authority.
2. Nothing in this Decree shall be deemed to enlarge or limit the authority of the United States to manage its lands in accordance with the Constitution, statutes, regulations and procedures of the United States, provided that such land management authority shall not be exercised for the primary purpose or effect of enhancing or enlarging any water right awarded herein, and provided further that nothing in this Decree is intended to restrict the United States' power to reserve additional land.

B. Finality

This Decree shall constitute a final statement, quantification, and adjudication of all water rights which the United States has claimed or could have claimed within Water Division No. 3, Wyoming, as part of this general adjudication under either federal or state law, except those held on behalf of the Shoshone and Arapahoe Tribes of the Wind River Indian Reservation, which rights are the subject of other proceedings in this adjudication, and those listed in Section IV.M.2. The United States shall be bound by the provisions of this Decree in any action or proceeding in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming or affecting Water Division No. 3, Wyoming. This provision shall not be interpreted, however, to bar the United States from adjudicating or confirming, as a part of this general adjudication, such rights as it may have acquired by permit or certificate from the State of Wyoming. Such rights have been previously confirmed, or have been adjudicated by this Court pursuant to the Big Horn Adjudication Phase III Procedures. This provision shall also not be interpreted to bar the United States, Wyoming, or any other party from petitioning the Court, at any time, to correct such clerical errors that may in the future be discovered in this Decree.

C. Changes of Water Rights

1. Only water rights for discrete uses awarded herein may be changed.
Changes of rights for discrete uses awarded herein shall be allowed only if:
 - a. the change is necessary to fulfill the primary purpose of the reservation, if any, with which the right is associated, and
 - b. if the change will not materially injure any other water right.
2. Such change shall be obtained from the Wyoming State Board of Control, subject to judicial review pursuant to Wyoming law, and only in accordance with the procedural requirements of Wyoming law.
3. The change shall not result in the enlargement of the amount of water awarded to that right herein.
4. The priority date of the change shall be the later of the reservation date of the tract or parcel to which the point of diversion or place of use is changed or the reservation date of the land from which the right is being transferred.
5. Changes of water rights decreed under Wyoming law shall be in accordance with Wyoming law.
6. Notwithstanding any language of this paragraph to the contrary, this paragraph shall not be interpreted to authorize changes in water rights which are otherwise specifically barred by the provisions of this Decree.

D. Place of Use of Water Rights

1. No water right decreed herein for use in association with any parcel of reserved federal land (a discrete tract of land which was reserved at one time) shall be used at any location off of said parcel of reserved land, as such lands are described in section III of this Decree, except in accordance with paragraph II.C., above. Provided, however, that water may be conveyed a reasonable distance from springs or public water reserves to facilitate use by stock and human beings.
2. In those instances in which a single existing reservation was established by federal action reserving parts of the reservation at various times, any water right decreed for use on such an existing reservation shall be used only on the specific portion of the reservation upon which the water source exists.

E. Duration

1. Water rights decreed herein for discrete consumptive uses on federal reserved land and on public lands not reserved shall run with the land if the reserved status is terminated or if ownership passes from the United States to any other entity.
2. Water rights decreed herein for all uses other than discrete uses on federal reserved land shall terminate and be of no force and effect if the reserved status of the land is terminated or if the ownership of the lands passes from the United States to any other person or entity. Where the reserved status of federal reserved land is changed, any water right decreed herein shall terminate unless the purpose(s) of the new reservation encompass(es) or include(s) the substantially identical purpose(s) of the original reservation.

F. Measuring Devices

The United States shall install or cause to be installed such measuring devices for all water rights decreed herein as may be reasonably required by the State

Engineer to administer such rights adequately in the same manner and to the same effect as may be required in the future of or imposed on any other water user under Wyoming law.

G. Disclaimer

It is not the intent of the State of Wyoming and the United States that this Final Phase II Decree in any way affect, diminish, or enhance rights awarded to the United States on behalf of the Shoshone and Arapahoe Tribes of the Wind River Indian Reservation or rights awarded to the Tribes themselves. No portion of this Final Phase II Decree shall be interpreted as affecting the nature, extent, or priority of any reserved rights awarded to or on behalf of the Shoshone and Arapahoe Tribes. Further, nothing in this Final Phase II Decree shall be deemed to govern the administration of Indian reserved rights or procedures for change in use or change in point of diversion for any Indian reserved rights. Finally, this Final Phase II Decree does not alter existing state law that valid state-awarded water rights held by or on behalf of the Tribes or individual Indians have an equal footing with all other valid state-awarded water rights.

III. Boundaries and Establishment Dates of Federal Reservations

Prior to ruling upon the water rights claims of the United States which are before the Court in this portion of this general adjudication, the Court finds it necessary to determine the boundaries of and reservation dates for all non-Indian lands reserved from the public domain for which the United States has made claims for water rights.

The boundaries and establishment dates of the federal reservations decreed herein are set forth solely for the purpose of facilitating administration of the water rights decreed herein and shall not be used for any other purpose.

IV. Water Rights Claims of the United States

The claims of the United States herein, insofar as those claims are based on precepts of federal law and excluding the claims of the United States based on Wyoming state law, except as specifically provided herein, or the claims of the United States relating to the Wind River Indian Reservation, are granted, in part, as follows:

A. Yellowstone National Park

1. Instream Flow: Middle Creek and Tributaries

The United States shall have the right to maintain the flows of Middle Creek and its tributaries within the boundaries of Yellowstone National Park at their natural flow. No further quantification of this right shall be required.

This right shall apply only within the Middle Creek drainage of Yellowstone National Park located within Water Division no. 3, Wyoming, and shall not apply to any other portion of the Park. This right shall be additionally limited as follows:

- a. The United States shall neither make nor permit any consumptive water use in Middle Creek or its tributaries, except as in paragraph IV.A.5, below.
- b. The United States shall neither make nor permit any significant alteration of any kind in the Middle Creek drainage or its tributary drainages which reduces or increases the flow of Middle Creek or its tributaries below or above their natural flow or alters the timing of their natural flow.
- c. In addition to the limitations expressed at paragraphs IV.A.1.a. and b., above, the United States shall neither make nor permit any diversion from the drainage basin of the mainstem of Middle Creek to any other basin or sub-basin, whether within or without the overall Middle Creek drainage basin.
- d. In addition to the limitations expressed at paragraphs IV.A.1.a., b. and c., above, the United States shall neither make nor permit any diversion from the drainage basin of any tributary of Middle Creek to any other basin or sub-basin, whether within or without the overall Middle Creek drainage basin.
- e. The right of the United States to maintain the natural flow of Middle Creek and its tributaries shall apply at all times during each calendar year.

2. Natural Lake Levels

The United States shall have the right to maintain the water levels of the following two lakes located within the Middle Creek drainage of Yellowstone National Park at their natural level.

- Unnamed Lake No. 1 is located at a point which bears South 52 degrees West from a point where the eastern boundary of Yellowstone National Park intersects U.S. Highway 14, 16 and 20 near the East Entrance Ranger Station, 18,250 feet. The elevation of the lake is approximately 8,550 feet.
- Unnamed Lake No. 2 is located at a point which bears South 68 degrees 30' West from a point where the eastern boundary of Yellowstone National Park intersects U.S. Highway 14, 16 and 20 near the East Entrance Ranger Station, 37,750 feet. The elevation of the lake is approximately 9,450 feet.

No further quantification of this right shall be required. This right shall apply only to the two lakes above described which are located within the Middle Creek drainage basin of Yellowstone National Park in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming, and shall not apply to any other lakes or any other portion of the Park. This right shall additionally be limited as follows:

- a. The United States shall neither make nor permit any use of the water, consumptive or otherwise, in Unnamed Lake No. 1 or Unnamed Lake No. 2.
- b. The United States shall neither make nor permit any significant alteration of any kind in the Middle Creek portion of Yellowstone National Park which will alter the natural level of Unnamed Lake No. 1 or Unnamed Lake No. 2, reduce or increase the natural outflow from either lake, reduce or increase the natural inflow into either lake, alter the natural timing of the outflow from either lake, or alter the timing of the inflow into either lake.

- c. In addition to the limitations expressed in paragraphs IV.A.2.a. and b., above, the United States shall neither make nor permit any diversion from Unnamed Lake No. 1 or Unnamed Lake No. 2 which constitutes a transbasin diversion of any form.
- d. The right of the United States to maintain the natural level of the above-described lakes shall apply at all times during each calendar year.

3. Natural Flow of Springs and Seeps

The United States shall have the right to maintain the flows of all springs and seeps of water within the Middle Creek drainage of Yellowstone National Park at their natural flow. No further quantification of this right shall be required. This right shall apply only to springs and seeps located within the Middle Creek drainage basin of Yellowstone National Park in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming, and shall not apply to any other portion of the Park. This right shall additionally be limited as follows:

- a. The United States shall neither make nor permit any water use, consumptive or otherwise, in any spring or seep, within the Middle Creek portion of Yellowstone National Park, except as provided in paragraph IV.A.5., below.
- b. The United States shall neither make nor permit any alteration of any kind in the Middle Creek portion of Yellowstone National Park which will alter the natural hydrologic characteristics of any spring or seep in any way.
- c. In addition to the limitations expressed in paragraphs IV.A.3.a. and b., above, the United States will neither make nor permit any diversion from any spring or seep in the Middle Creek portion of Yellowstone National Park which constitutes a transbasin diversion of any form.

- d. The right of the United States to maintain the natural flow of any spring or seep within the Middle Creek drainage of Yellowstone National Park shall apply at all times during each calendar year.

4. Groundwater

The United States has claimed the amount of groundwater required to maintain Yellowstone National Park in its natural condition. The Court finds that it is not possible to quantify or describe the amount of groundwater that may be required to maintain Yellowstone National Park in its natural condition. It is thus impossible to define or describe any such right in this Decree. However, nothing in this Decree shall be deemed to bar the United States from bringing an action in any court of competent jurisdiction to protect Yellowstone National Park from groundwater withdrawals detrimental to the natural condition of Yellowstone National Park.

5. East Entrance Ranger Station

The United States shall have the right to use for domestic purposes only for the facilities at the East Entrance Ranger Station of Yellowstone National Park. This right shall be limited as follows:

- a. In order to supply the domestic needs of staff and visitors at the East Entrance Ranger Station facilities, the United States shall be entitled to divert no more than one acre-foot of water from Middle Creek during each calendar year. The United States shall, however, consumptively use no more than 50% of the amount of water actually diverted up to the one acre-foot diversion limit.
- b. The source and point of diversion of the water used to meet the domestic needs of the East Entrance Ranger Station is a spring tributary to Middle Creek located 110 degrees 0' 48" West longitude and 44 degrees 29' 14" North latitude, approximately 3/4 of a mile west of the East Entrance Ranger Station of Yellowstone National Park and approximately 300 to 400 feet north of the highway through the Middle Creek drainage of Yellowstone National Park.

- c. Should it become necessary for the United States to change the point of diversion of this water right, it shall do so according to W.R.S. Section 41-3-104, or such successor to that statute as may be enacted in the future and in accordance with Section II.C. ("Changes of Water Rights") of this Decree. No change which would locate the point of diversion outside the boundaries of the Yellowstone National Park shall be allowed.

6. Priority Date

All water rights awarded by this Decree on behalf of the Middle Creek drainage of Yellowstone National Park shall have a priority date of March 1, 1929.

7. No Changes of Stream Flows, Lake Levels, or Springs and Seeps

Any other section of this Decree notwithstanding, the United States shall have no right to make any change of any type of the right to maintain instream flows, lake levels, or the flow of springs and seeps in Yellowstone National Park. Such rights shall be solely for the non-consumptive purposes decreed herein.

B. Big Horn Canyon National Recreation Area

All claims by the United States of reserved water rights in the Big Horn Canyon National Recreation Area are hereby specifically denied by the Court. All state-awarded water rights held by the United States having a point of diversion or place of use in the Big Horn Canyon National Recreation Area shall be merged into the Bureau of Reclamation's state-awarded permits for Yellowtail Reservoir. The Wyoming State Board of Control shall take appropriate action to cancel those state-awarded rights.

C. Public Water Reserves

In this adjudication, the United States has claimed a reserved water right for public use of the entire flow of numerous public water reserves located in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming.

1. Unless an individual public water reserve has a water right under permit or certificate issued by Wyoming, the United States shall have water rights in the public water reserves in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming, as shown in Table 1. Each of the elements of each right as displayed in Table 1 shall be construed to be a limitation on the right. Hence, the United States shall use each water right identified at the location shown, except that water may be conveyed a reasonable distance from the source to facilitate public use, in the amount shown, and under the priority date shown, for the uses stated below. Other limitations on these rights are also as stated below. This paragraph shall not be interpreted to prohibit the United States from applying to Wyoming for water rights in any public water reserves in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming. Said applications shall be made and determined according to Wyoming law.
2. Any water right decreed herein on behalf of any public water reserve shall be deemed to be and shall be administered and enforced as junior to any existing water right permitted or certificated under Wyoming law, if the exercise, operation, or use of the water right granted for the public water reserve conflicts with the exercise, operation, or use of the right permitted or certificated under Wyoming law.

3. The water rights awarded herein on behalf of public water reserves shall be used solely for drinking by human beings and wildlife and for stockwatering.
4. This Court is aware that the United States has applied for and obtained permits and certificates from Wyoming granting it water rights in certain public water reserves for which reserved appropriative water rights have been claimed in this adjudication.

The right of the United States to use the water of any public water reserve described above which is also permitted or certificated under Wyoming law shall be governed solely by the terms of such permits or certificates regardless of whether such reserve is shown on the foregoing tabulation. The status of said permits or certificates has been previously confirmed, or has been determined by this Court pursuant to the Big Horn Adjudication Phase III Procedures.

5. This Court recognizes that public water reserves additional to those decreed herein may be discovered subsequent to the date of this Decree. The right to use the water of all such reserves shall be obtained by the United States in full compliance with Wyoming law.
6. If, at any time subsequent to the date of this Decree, the United States, Wyoming, or any other person or entity discovers any error in the location of any public water reserve shown in Table 1, they may petition the Court to correct said error, upon a showing that such error, in fact, exists.

D. Stock Driveways

In this adjudication, the United States has claimed a reserved water right and a federal non-reserved appropriative right to maintain certain levels of instream flow on streams flowing through and to use numerous reservoirs located within stock driveways in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming.

1. Stream Flows

The United States shall have a water right to maintain stream flows in the stock driveways in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming, as shown in Table 2.

These rights to maintain instream flows shall be a full and final adjudication and quantification of the right of the United States to maintain instream flows within the stock driveways in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming. Each element of the right as displayed in Table 2 shall be construed to be a limitation on the right. Hence, the United States shall have the right to the decreed flows in no greater amount than shown, at the places shown, and at the priority dates shown. Other limitations on these rights are also as stated below.

- a. The right of the United States to maintain instream flows on stock driveways, as specified herein, shall apply only within the boundaries of the driveways on the stream segments specified in this Decree.
- b. The United States shall utilize the instream flows decreed on behalf of stock driveways in this matter only for stockwatering and for drinking by human beings.
- c. The United States shall have the right to maintain the instream flows specified herein on behalf of stock driveways only at those times in which livestock which are lawfully using the stock driveways are seeking water at the stream in question. The United States shall have no right to water for stock driveway stream flows at any other time.
- d. The United States' right to maintain the stock driveway stream flows decreed herein shall apply only at the point or stream reach at which livestock are actually drinking.
- e. The instream flow quantification decreed on behalf of stock driveways herein is the maximum quantification for the purposes stated. If fewer livestock are sought to be watered than shown on Table 2, then the right to maintain stream flows shall be proportionately reduced.

- f. The priority date of the stock driveway stream flow rights decreed herein shall be the date the land upon which the affected stream reach was reserved for stock driveway purposes as shown on the compilation of the individual stream flow rights in Table 2.
- g. Any water right to maintain the stock driveway stream flows decreed herein shall be deemed to be and shall be administered and enforced as junior to any existing water right permitted or certificated under Wyoming law, if the exercise, operation, or use of the stream flow conflicts with the exercise, operation, or use of such permitted or certificated right.
- h. Should the United States, Wyoming, or any other person or entity discover any error in the information contained in Table 2 at any time subsequent to the date of this Decree, they may petition the Court to correct said error upon a showing that such error, in fact, exists.

2. Stock Driveway Reservoirs

The United States shall have water rights, as shown in Table 3, in stock driveway reservoirs in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming, so long as no permit or certificate to use water has been issued for said reservoir by Wyoming. Table 3 shall represent and be a full and final quantification of all water rights of the United States in stock driveway reservoirs in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming, other than those previously granted state-awarded water rights. Each of the elements of each right as displayed in Table 3 shall be construed to be a limitation on the right. Hence, the United States shall use the water of each named reservoir at the location shown, in no more than the amount shown, and under the priority date shown, for the uses stated below. Other limitations on these rights are also as stated below. This paragraph shall not be interpreted to prohibit the United States from applying to Wyoming for water rights in any stock driveway reservoirs in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming. Said applications shall be made and determined according to Wyoming law.

- a. The United States shall have the right to one annual filling of each stock driveway reservoir decreed herein as is necessary to replenish those reservoirs due to losses from consumption by animal and human drinking and evaporation from said reservoir, as limited by the quantity decreed on behalf of each reservoir.
- b. The Court recognizes that the following stock driveway reservoirs are capable of storing in excess of 20 acre-feet of water at any one time:
 - (1) South Fork Question Creek Detention Dam
 - (2) R-12 Reservoir

The right decreed herein authorizes the storage of no more than 20 acre-feet in those reservoirs. If the United States wishes to maintain any storage additional to that 20 acre-feet in these two reservoirs it shall obtain the right to do so in full compliance with Wyoming law. Otherwise, the United States is prohibited, however, from ever storing more than 20 acre-feet of water in any reservoir under the water right decreed herein. This prohibition shall apply equally to any stock driveway reservoir other than those noted in this paragraph which may be capable of storing in excess of 20 acre-feet of water at any one time.

- c. The United States shall use the water right decreed on behalf of any stock driveway reservoir herein solely for stockwatering and drinking by human beings tending stock within the driveways.

- d. The United States may use the stock driveway reservoirs under the right decreed herein at any time that the stock driveways are in use and water is needed for the watering purposes stated herein.
- e. Any water right decreed herein on behalf of any stock driveway reservoir shall be deemed to be and shall be administered and enforced as junior to any existing water right permitted or certificated under Wyoming law, if the exercise, operation, or use of the water right in the stock driveway reservoir conflicts with the exercise, operation, or use of the permitted or certificated right.
- f. If, at any time subsequent to the date of this Decree, the United States, Wyoming, or any other person or entity discovers any error in the information contained in Table 3, they may petition the Court to correct said error upon a showing that such error, in fact, exists.
- g. This Court is aware that the United States has applied for and obtained permits and/or certificates from Wyoming granting it water rights in numerous stock driveway reservoirs. The Wyoming Board of Control previously adjudicated all valid and permitted facilities. The right of the United States to use the water of said reservoirs shall be governed solely by the terms of such permits and certificates.

E. Water-Producing Oil and Gas Wells

In this litigation, the United States claimed reserved water rights in eleven water-producing oil and gas wells on lands managed by the United States Bureau of Land Management. On July 15, 1980 the United States and Wyoming entered a Stipulation agreeing:

- (1) That the United States had reserved water rights in two water-producing oil and gas wells.

- (2) That the United States had valid water rights in nine other such wells and that Wyoming would not object to their validity.

The Court hereby approves the Stipulation of July 15, 1980, and orders, adjudges, and decrees as follows:

1. Reserved Water Rights

The United States shall have a reserved water right in the water wells listed in Table 4.

- a. The reserved water right in the Rose Dome and Sand Draw wells shall be used for agricultural and domestic purposes in no more than the amounts shown and under the priorities shown.
- b. The reserved water right in the Rose Dome and Sand Draw wells may be used throughout each year, as limited by the nature of the uses to which the right may be placed.
- c. The United States shall have no federal non-reserved appropriative water right in the above wells.

2. Water Rights Under Wyoming Law

This Court is aware that the United States has applied for and obtained permits from Wyoming granting it water rights in several water-producing oil and gas wells. The Court previously adjudicated these permitted wells under a separate phase of the general adjudication. The right of the United States to use the water of said wells shall be governed fully and exclusively by all terms of those permits.

- F. Bureau of Land Management Wells Located on Non-Reserved Public Lands

1. In this adjudication, the United States has claimed water rights in numerous wells located on non-reserved public lands managed by the Bureau of Land Management. The United States shall have water rights in the wells listed in Table 5, with a priority date of November 1, 1982. The use thereof is limited to providing drinking water for people, stock and wildlife in the amount shown on Table 5.

2. This Court is aware that the United States has applied for and obtained permits and certificates from Wyoming granting it water rights in certain BLM wells. The Court previously adjudicated these permitted wells under a separate phase of the general adjudication. The right of the United States to use the water of said wells shall be governed solely by the terms of such permits and certificates.
3. The United States alleges that there may exist additional wells located on non-reserved public lands which were not claimed herein by inadvertence or otherwise. The right to use such wells shall be obtained exclusively under Wyoming law, and the United States shall have no right under federal law to use said wells. Any such wells for which a permit or certificate has issued shall be used under the terms of such permit or certificate only.

G. Bureau of Land Management Reservoirs Located on Non-Reserved Public Lands

1. In this adjudication, the United States has claimed water rights in numerous reservoirs located on non-reserved public lands managed by the Bureau of Land Management. The United States shall have water rights listed in Table 6, in an amount no greater than twenty (20) acre-feet, with a priority date of November 1, 1982. The use thereof is limited to providing drinking water for people, stock and wildlife in the storage amount shown.

The Court recognizes that many reservoirs are listed in Table 6 that are capable of storing in excess of 20 acre-feet of water at any one time. The right decreed herein authorizes the storage of no more than 20 acre-feet in those reservoirs. If the United States wishes to maintain any storage additional to that 20 acre-feet in these reservoirs, it shall obtain the right to do so in full compliance with Wyoming law. Otherwise, the United States is prohibited, however, from ever storing more than 20 acre feet of water in any reservoir under the water right decreed herein.

2. This Court is aware that the United States has applied for and obtained permits and certificates from Wyoming granting it water rights in certain BLM reservoirs. These permitted reservoirs were previously adjudicated either by the Wyoming Board of Control, or by the Court under a separate phase of the general adjudication. The right of the United States to use the water of said reservoirs shall be governed solely by the terms of such permits and certificates.
3. The United States alleges that there may exist additional reservoirs located on non-reserved public lands which were not claimed herein by inadvertence or otherwise. The right to use such reservoirs shall be obtained exclusively under Wyoming law, and the United States shall have no right under federal law, in a matter inconsistent with Wyoming state law, to use said reservoirs. Any such reservoirs for which a permit or certificate has issued shall be used under the terms of such permit or certificate only.

H. Bureau of Reclamation

In this adjudication, the United States claimed reserved water rights and federal non-reserved appropriative water rights on behalf of the United States Bureau of Reclamation. The United States also claimed numerous water rights under authority of permits and certificates issued by Wyoming under Wyoming law. On January 31, 1980, the United States, the Shoshone and Arapahoe Tribes, and Wyoming entered a Stipulation submitted to this Court, that no reserved water rights exist on behalf of the Bureau of Reclamation within Water Division No. 3, Wyoming.

The Court hereby orders, adjudges, and decrees that the United States shall have no reserved water right and no federal non-reserved appropriative water rights on behalf of the Bureau of Reclamation in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming. All water uses by the Bureau of Reclamation shall be authorized under Wyoming law only. The status of those permits or certificates held by the United States on behalf of the Bureau of Reclamation for the use of water in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming, has been previously confirmed, or has been determined by the Court pursuant to the Big Horn Adjudication Phase III Procedures.

I. East Fork Elk Winter Range and Whiskey Basin Elk Winter Range

In this matter, the United States has claimed a reserved water right to use water to fulfill the purposes of the East Fork Elk Winter Range. The United States subsequently withdrew these claims. Accordingly, the United States shall have no water rights for any purpose on behalf of the East Fork and Whiskey Basin Elk Winter Ranges.

J. Department of Interior, Fisheries and Wildlife Habitat Claims

In this litigation, the United States claimed the right to maintain certain levels of instream flow on numerous streams flowing through the public lands managed by the Bureau of Land Management, Department of Interior in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming. The United States made these claims to preserve and enhance fisheries and wildlife habitat on the public lands. These claims are included in the United States' Statement of Claims, filed with the Court on March 6, 1980, and are specifically shown on Attachment A to that Statement of Claims. Said Attachment A is dated February 2, 1980, and is described at the top of page one of the Attachment as follows:

This is a Listing of BLM Instream Flow requirements on streams which flow through BLM lands. Only the requirements for October are printed. The remaining months have the same requirements. The data is sorted by primary tributaries and then secondary tributaries.

The State of Wyoming moved to dismiss these claims, with prejudice, as it moved to dismiss all claims based upon the so-called non-reserved appropriative water rights doctrine, as part of its Response to the United States' Statement of Claims, which Response was filed July 16, 1980. The United States subsequently filed a Withdrawal of these claims on December 2, 1981. The Court hereby orders, adjudges, and decrees that the United States' claim for instream flows for preservation of fisheries and wildlife habitat on public lands managed by the Bureau of Land Management are hereby dismissed, with prejudice. The United States shall have no right to maintain any instream flow on said lands for any purpose in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming.

K. United States Forest Service

1. Wood River Administrative Site

- a. The United States shall have the right to divert 10 gpm of water by its well at the Wood River Administrative Site for the domestic purposes of United States Forest Service personnel at that Site.
- b. The Wood River Administrative Site Well is located in Lot 7, Sec. 21, T. 46 N., R. 102 W., 6th P.M.
- c. The source of the water used by said well is the alluvial aquifer of the Wood River. The water is tributary to the Wood River.
- d. The priority date of said well shall be October 18, 1945.
- e. The Wood River Administrative Site Well shall be used solely to supply the domestic needs of United States Forest Service personnel and official visitors working or living at the Site. The well may be used at any time such personnel are living or working at the Site.

2. Quantified Water Flow Uses

a. In this matter the United States has claimed the right to pass certain amounts of water, measured in acre-feet, past specified points on certain natural streams in the Bighorn and Shoshone National Forests in order to achieve the purposes of those Forests under the Organic Act of 1897. The United States has also made a separate claim for the right to maintain certain levels of instream flows on those same streams to accomplish the additional purposes of the Bighorn National Forest under the Multiple Use-Sustained Yield Act of 1960. It is the Decree of the Court that, with the limitations stated herein, the United States shall have a water right to pass those amounts of water shown on Table 7 past the points identified on the streams specified on the Bighorn and Shoshone National Forests during the periods shown. The United States shall have no other water right to the passage of any quantity of water or to the maintenance of any instream flows on the Bighorn and Shoshone National Forests except as specified by this Decree. Each of the line items on Table 7 refers to a specific individual water right and defines the following elements of the right:

- (1) The name of the national forest on which the stream is located;
- (2) The name of the stream upon which the water right applies;
- (3) The priority date of the water right;
- (4) The point at which the water right is quantified, which is the point at which it may be enforced and maintained; and
- (5) The amount of the water right, in total acre-feet annually and monthly at the point of quantification.

Each of the foregoing elements of each water right is to be construed as a limitation on the right. Other limitations on the water rights granted herein are as otherwise specified in this Decree.

- b. The amounts shown for each of the water rights quantified on Table 7 are displayed on a monthly basis. The monthly totals shall be considered to state a limitation upon the right decreed. The United States shall not be entitled in any month to the passage of a greater amount of water than as shown below for that month. Passage of a greater amount in any given month shall not, however, affect the amount to which the United States is entitled in subsequent months.
- c. The priority date of each water right shall be as shown in this Decree for each line item on Table 7 pertaining to an individual water right.
- d. The water rights granted herein on behalf of the National Forests shall be in full and final satisfaction of all rights of the United States to the passage of any quantity of water past any point on any natural stream on the Bighorn and Shoshone National Forests and the right to maintain any level of instream flow on the Forests. Any other section of this Decree notwithstanding, the United States shall have no right to make any change of any kind in the water rights decreed by this section of the Decree. The water decreed herein shall be used solely as decreed, to pass those amounts of water shown past the points shown and in the amounts shown, on the stream in which the water naturally flows. The United States shall have the same rights as any other water right holder in Wyoming to assert injury to the instream flow rights decreed herein as a bar or defense to a change of a state-awarded water right.
- e. The Court is aware that the rights to the passage of water granted to the United States could, when exercised, adversely affect existing water rights permitted or certificated under Wyoming law. It is the Decree of the Court that all rights for the passage of water decreed herein to the United States shall be deemed to be and shall be administered and enforced as junior to any existing water right permitted or certificated under Wyoming law, if the exercise, operation, or use of the right to the passage of water conflicts with the exercise, operation, or use of the permitted or certificated water right.

- f. This Court recognizes that certain of the streams upon which a water right for the passage of amounts of water has been decreed have been studied as or planned for the construction of new or enlarged reservoir storage by the United States, Wyoming, or other public, quasi-public, or private parties.

- (1) Within the Bighorn National Forest, future new or enlarged reservoir sites have been identified on the following streams:

Porcupine Creek
Shell Creek
Medicine Lodge Creek
Paint Rock Creek
West Tensleep Creek

- (2) Within the Shoshone National Forest, future new or enlarged reservoir sites have been identified on the following streams:

Brooks Lake Creek
Warm Springs Creek
East Fork of the Wind River
Wiggins Fork
South Fork of the Little Wind River
Louis Creek
South Fork of the Shoshone River
Clark's Fork of the Yellowstone River
Sunlight Creek

It is the decree of this Court that if the construction or enlargement of any reservoir on the streams shown is authorized by an entity with authority to construct and/or fund the construction of such reservoir or enlargement, the water right decreed herein to the United States on that stream shall be deemed to be and shall be administered as junior to any such reservoir or enlargement.

- g. This Court is aware that, in addition to the potential future storage facilities noted above, there exists other additional, but as yet not specifically identifiable, potential for the development of water for beneficial use on the streams upon which a water right for the passage of water has been decreed. It is the Decree of this Court that all water rights for the passage of water decreed herein to the United States shall be deemed to be and shall be administered and enforced as junior to any water right or rights initiated under Wyoming law subsequent to the date of this Decree and having their point of diversion or place of storage all or partly upstream of the quantification point of the United States' right for the passage of water, when the exercise of the United States' right to the passage of water would conflict with the exercise of such water right or rights initiated under Wyoming law, provided however, that the United States' right to the passage of water shall be deemed to be and shall be administered as junior to such future water rights under Wyoming law only so long as all such rights annually use, in total, no more than the following amounts of water on the indicated streams:

Water rights applied for under Wyoming law subsequent to the date of this Decree which would cause the above total future use on each stream to be exceeded shall be junior to the United States' rights to the passage of water to the extent their usage exceeds the amounts shown on the foregoing tabulation.

3. Springs and Seeps

a. Bighorn National Forest

The United States shall have a water right to maintain the springs and seeps in the Bighorn National Forest to fulfill national forest purposes as stated in the Organic Act of 1897 and Multiple Use Sustained Yield Act not to exceed 400 acre-feet per year, provided that the water right to any individual spring or seep shall not exceed one (1) acre-foot per year. No water is to be diverted from any such spring or seep by the United States nor shall any existing water right permitted or certificated under Wyoming law be adversely affected by the exercise of this right. Each spring or seep shall be identified and reported to the State Engineer when it is located.

b. Shoshone National Forest

The United States shall have a water right to maintain the springs and seeps in the Shoshone National Forest to fulfill national forest purposes as stated in the Organic Act of 1897 and Multiple Use Sustained Yield Act not to exceed 1200 acre-feet per year, provided that the water right to any individual spring or seep shall not exceed one (1) acre-foot per year. No water is to be diverted from any such spring or seep by the United States nor shall any existing water right permitted or certificated under Wyoming law be adversely affected by the exercise of this right. Each spring or seep shall be identified and reported to the State Engineer when it is located.

4. Discrete Water Uses

a. Bighorn National Forest

(1) Discrete Uses

(a) In this matter, the United States has claimed certain discrete, identifiable, and measurable water uses to supply water needed to administer the Bighorn National Forest under the Organic Act of 1897. These uses are shown on the annually updated United States Forest Service printout for the Bighorn National Forest entitled "Forest Service - Current and Foreseeable Water Uses on Land Reserved From the Public Domain." It is hereby ordered, adjudged, and decreed that the United States shall have the right to make the water uses shown in this section of this Decree in accordance with the limitations shown. The tabulation shown on Table 8 describes each such water use. The information contained on the table is:

- (i) The name of the use;
- (ii) The water source supply the use;
- (iii) The type of use, whether surface diversion, storage, or underground diversion;

- (iv) The location of the use within the Bighorn National Forest, by section, township, and range and by Bighorn National Forest watershed unit;
- (v) The purpose for which the use is employed;
- (vi) The amount of the use, in cfs; and
- (vii) The priority date of the use.

Each of the foregoing categories is to be construed as a limitation on the right. Other limitations on the right are as stated herein.

- (b) The "use" described in Table 8 indicates the primary uses of water under the right decreed. However, this shall not be deemed to preclude use of water in amounts not to exceed the decreed quantity from the same source for the needs directly related to production of timber and securing favorable conditions of water flow, subject to II.C. and II.D.
- (c) The amount of use shown on Table 8 shall be the maximum depletion which shall be made under said use.
- (d) In addition to the uses shown on Table 8, the United States has applied for and obtained permits or certificates from Wyoming for certain discrete water uses on the Bighorn National Forest used to fulfill the purposes of the Forest. These permitted facilities were previously adjudicated either by the Wyoming Board of Control, or by the Court under a separate phase of the general adjudication. The right of the United States to use the water from said facilities shall be governed solely by the terms of such permits and certificates.

- (e) The Court recognizes that subsequent to the date of this Decree, the United States may wish to develop additional discrete uses of water on the Bighorn National Forest to fulfill Forest purposes under the Organic Act of 1897. The United States shall be entitled to develop underground, direct flow, or storage rights for such purposes on the Bighorn National Forest without complying with Wyoming law subject to the following limitations:
- (i) The total diversion for all future direct flow and underground uses on the Bighorn National Forest in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming, shall not exceed 50 acre-feet, annually.
 - (ii) The total consumptive use, including but not limited to evaporation and seepage, attributable to storage of all future reservoirs or other storage facilities on the Bighorn National Forest in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming, shall be included within the 50 acre-feet annual diversion in subparagraph (i), above. Provided, however, that no individual storage facility or no combination of storage facilities above any single quantification point for instream flows awarded herein may exceed 20 acre-feet of total storage.
 - (iii) Prior to developing any future use for any purpose on the Bighorn National Forest, the United States shall notify the Wyoming State Engineer of such use and shall make available to him the following information:
 - (A) The name of the use;

- (B) The source supplying the use;
- (C) The type of use, whether surface diversion, storage, or underground diversion;
- (D) The location of the use within the Bighorn National Forest, by quarter-quarter section, township, and range and by Bighorn National Forest watershed unit and ranger district;
- (E) The purpose for which the use is employed;
- (F) The amount of the use, in cfs or in acre-feet, as is appropriate;
- (G) The season of use; and
- (H) The proposed date of completion of the diversion or storage facilities, and application to beneficial use pursuant to Wyoming law or as specifically authorized by congressional enactment.

The Wyoming State Engineer may prepare forms for the filing of this information and, if such are prepared, the United States shall use such forms in supplying the information. Failure to comply with this notice requirement shall require that such use be established under Wyoming law.

- (iv) The priority date of such future discrete uses shall be the date the land upon which the use is located was reserved for national forest purposes.
- (v) If the United States wishes to develop future direct flow, underground, or storage rights in excess of the limitations stated in paragraphs IV.K.4.a.(1)(e)(i), (ii) and (iii) herein, it shall be entitled to do so only in full compliance with Wyoming law. All applications to develop future uses in excess of the limitations shown herein shall be submitted and determined as provided by Wyoming law, and no use in excess of the limitations stated herein shall be otherwise allowed.

- (vi) This section shall not be interpreted as prohibiting the United States from applying to Wyoming for future uses on the Bighorn National Forest under Wyoming law even if the limitations expressed in paragraphs IV.K.4.a.(1)(e)(i), (ii) and (iii), above, have not been exceeded.

(2) Other Discrete Uses

- (a) In this matter, the United States has claimed water rights in numerous discrete, identifiable, and measurable water uses on the Bighorn National Forest. The United States is awarded rights to all of the uses on Table 9, in the amounts and at the location specified, with a priority date of November 1, 1982.
- (b) The United States has applied for and obtained permits and certificates from Wyoming granting it water rights for numerous discrete, identifiable, and measurable uses shown on the printout referenced in paragraph IV.K.4.a.(1)(a) which it claims are used to fulfill purposes of the Bighorn National Forest. The right of the United States to make those water uses shall be governed solely by the terms of such permits and certificates. The status of said permits and certificates has been previously confirmed, or has been determined by the Court pursuant to the Big Horn Adjudication Phase III Procedures.

b. Shoshone National Forest

(1) Discrete Uses

(a) In this matter, the United States has claimed certain discrete, identifiable, and measurable water uses to supply water needed to administer the Shoshone National Forest under the Organic Act of 1897. These uses are shown on the annually updated United States Forest Service printout for the Shoshone National Forest entitled "Forest Service - Current and Foreseeable Water Uses on Land Reserved From the Public Domain." It is hereby ordered, adjudged, and decreed that the United States shall have the right to make the water uses shown in this section of this Decree in accordance with the limitations shown. The tabulation shown on Table 10 describes each such water use. The information contained on the table is:

- (i) The name of the use;
- (ii) The water source supply the use;
- (iii) The type of use, whether surface diversion, storage, or underground diversion;
- (iv) The location of the use within the Shoshone National Forest, by section, township, and range and by Shoshone National Forest watershed unit;
- (v) The purpose for which the use is employed;

(vi) The amount of the use, in cfs; and

(vii) The priority date of the use.

Each of the foregoing categories is to be construed as a limitation on the right. Other limitations on the right are as stated herein.

- (b) The "use" described in Table 10 indicates the primary uses of water under the right decreed. However, this shall not be deemed to preclude use of water in amounts not to exceed the decreed quantity from the same source for the needs directly related to production of timber and securing favorable conditions of water flow, subject to II.C. and II.D.
- (c) The amount of use shown on Table 10 shall be the maximum depletion which shall be made under said use.
- (d) In addition to the uses shown on Table 10, the United States has applied for and obtained permits or certificates from Wyoming for certain discrete water uses on the Shoshone National Forest used to fulfill the purposes of the Forest. These permitted facilities were previously adjudicated either by the Wyoming Board of Control, or by the Court under a separate phase of the general adjudication. The right of the United States to use the water from said facilities shall be governed solely by the terms of such permits and certificates.
- (e) The Court recognizes that subsequent to the date of this Decree, the United States may wish to develop additional discrete uses of water on the Shoshone National Forest to fulfill Forest purposes under the Organic Act of 1897. The United States shall be entitled to develop underground, direct flow, or storage rights for such purposes on the Shoshone National Forest without complying with Wyoming law subject to the following limitations:

- (i) The total diversion for all future direct flow and underground uses on the Shoshone National Forest in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming, shall not exceed 150 acre-feet, annually.
- (ii) The total consumptive use, including but not limited to evaporation and seepage, attributable to storage of all future reservoirs or other storage facilities on the Shoshone National Forest in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming, shall be included within the 150 acre-feet annual diversion in subparagraph (i), above. Provided, however, that no individual storage facility or no combination of storage facilities above any single quantification point for instream flows awarded herein may exceed 20 acre-feet of total storage.
- (iii) Prior to developing any future use for any purpose on the Shoshone National Forest, the United States shall notify the Wyoming State Engineer of such use and shall make available to him the following information:
 - (A) The name of the use;
 - (B) The source supplying the use;
 - (C) The type of use, whether surface diversion, storage, or underground diversion;
 - (D) The location of the use within the Shoshone National Forest, by quarter-quarter section, township, and range and by Shoshone National Forest watershed unit and ranger district;

- (E) The purpose for which the use is employed;
- (F) The amount of the use, in cfs or in acre-feet, as is appropriate;
- (G) The season of use; and
- (H) The proposed date of completion of the diversion or storage facilities, and application to beneficial use pursuant to Wyoming law or as specifically authorized by congressional enactment.

The Wyoming State Engineer may prepare forms for the filing of this information and, if such are prepared, the United States shall use such forms in supplying the information. Failure to comply with this notice requirement shall require that such use be established under Wyoming law.

- (iv) The priority date of such future discrete uses shall be the date the land upon which the use is located was reserved for national forest purposes.
- (v) If the United States wishes to develop future direct flow, underground, or storage rights in excess of the limitations stated in paragraphs IV.K.4.b.(1)(e)(i), (ii) and (iii) herein, it shall be entitled to do so only in full compliance with Wyoming law. All applications to develop future uses in excess of the limitations shown herein shall be submitted and determined as provided by Wyoming law, and no use in excess of the limitations stated herein shall be otherwise allowed.

- (vi) This section shall not be interpreted as prohibiting the United States from applying to Wyoming for future uses on the Shoshone National Forest under Wyoming law even if the limitations expressed in paragraphs IV.K.4.b.(1)(e)(i), (ii) and (iii), above, have not been exceeded.

(2) Other Discrete Uses

- (a) In this matter, the United States has claimed water rights in numerous discrete, identifiable, and measurable water uses on the Shoshone National Forest. The United States is awarded rights to all of the uses on Table 11, in the amounts and at the location specified, with a priority date of November 1, 1982.
- (b) The United States has applied for and obtained permits and certificates from Wyoming granting it water rights for numerous discrete, identifiable, and measurable uses shown on the printout referenced in paragraph IV.K.4.b.(1)(a) which it claims are used to fulfill purposes of the Shoshone National Forest. The right of the United States to make those water uses shall be governed solely by the terms of such permits and certificates. The status of said permits and certificates has been previously confirmed, or has been determined by the Court pursuant to the Big Horn Adjudication Phase III Procedures.

5. Unquantified Administrative Uses

a. Bighorn National Forest

- (1) The United States shall have the right to divert no more than 150 acre-feet of water annually on the Bighorn National Forest to fulfill the following administrative uses of the Forest:
 - (a) timber haul road construction;
 - (b) dust suppression associated with timber production and watershed protection;
 - (c) watering of riding stock used by United States Forest Service personnel in connection with timber production or watershed protection;
 - (d) general domestic needs of United States Forest Service personnel involved in timber production and watershed protection; and
 - (e) other needs directly related to production of timber and securing favorable conditions of water flow; provided, however, that such uses hereunder shall not exceed 10 acre-feet annually.
- (2) The source of the water decreed for the rights described in this section shall be the streams and lakes located on the Bighorn National Forest generally. The United States may use water from any such stream or lake to supply the uses decreed herein, so long as its total use does not exceed the annual limit of 150 acre-feet of water.
- (3) At the end of each calendar year, the United States shall report its uses for the purposes described in this section to the Wyoming

State Engineer. That report shall contain the following information:

- (a) each water use made, as authorized by this portion of this Decree;
- (b) the name of the stream or lake which supplied each use;
- (c) if the use was supplied from a stream, the point on each stream at which water was taken; and
- (d) the amount of each use.

The Wyoming State Engineer may develop a form for reporting the foregoing information and may make such form available to the United States Forest Service. The Forest Service shall use such form to report the information required once the form is developed and made available to it. Failure to comply with this notice requirement shall result in the Wyoming State Engineer, in his discretion, not honoring said water right during the following calendar year.

- (4) The priority date for the uses decreed in this section of the Decree shall be the date the land upon which the water source from which the use is supplied was reserved for national forest purposes.
- (5) In supplying the uses described in paragraph IV.K.5.a.(1)(a),(b),(c) and (d) of this section, the United States shall minimize the effect of the use on water uses made under authority of permit or certificate issued by Wyoming. In addition, when supplying the uses described in paragraph IV.K.5.a.(1)(a),(b),(c) and (d) of this section, the United States shall not take water from any privately owned or operated reservoir on the Bighorn National Forest unless consent to do so is obtained from the owner of such reservoir.

- (6) The United States shall be entitled to apply to Wyoming for the right to use water additional to that decreed herein for the purposes described in paragraph IV.K.5.a.(1)(a),(b),(c) and (d) of this section of the Decree. Such applications shall be made and determined solely according to Wyoming law.

b. Shoshone National Forest

- (1) The United States shall have the right to divert no more than 250 acre-feet of water annually on the Shoshone National Forest to fulfill the following administrative uses of the Forest:
 - (a) timber haul road construction;
 - (b) dust suppression associated with timber production and watershed protection;
 - (c) watering of riding stock used by United States Forest Service personnel in connection with timber production or watershed protection;
 - (d) general domestic needs of United States Forest Service personnel involved in timber production and watershed protection; and
 - (e) other needs directly related to production of timber and securing favorable conditions of water flow; provided, however, that such uses hereunder shall not exceed 15 acre-feet annually.
- (2) The source of the water decreed for the rights described in this section shall be the streams and lakes located on the Shoshone National Forest generally. The United States may use water from any such stream or lake to supply the uses decreed herein, so long as its total use does not exceed the annual limit of 250 acre-feet of water.

(3) At the end of each calendar year, the United States shall report its uses for the purposes described in this section to the Wyoming State Engineer. That report shall contain the following information:

- (a) each water use made, as authorized by this portion of this Decree;
- (b) the name of the stream or lake which supplied each use;
- (c) if the use was supplied from a stream, the point on each stream at which water was taken; and
- (d) the amount of each use.

The Wyoming State Engineer may develop a form for reporting the foregoing information and may make such form available to the United States Forest Service. The Forest Service shall use such form to report the information required once the form is developed and made available to it. Failure to comply with this notice requirement shall result in the Wyoming State Engineer, in his discretion, not honoring said water right during the following calendar year.

- (4) The priority date for the uses decreed in this section of the Decree shall be the date the land upon which the water source from which the use is supplied was reserved for national forest purposes.
- (5) In supplying the uses described in paragraph IV.K.5.b.(1)(a),(b),(c) and (d) of this section, the United States shall minimize the effect of the use on water uses made under authority of permit or certificate issued by Wyoming. In addition, when supplying the uses described in paragraph IV.K.5.b.(1)(a),(b),(c) and (d) of this section, the United States shall not take water from any privately owned or operated reservoir on the Shoshone National Forest unless consent to do so is obtained from the owner of such reservoir.

- (6) The United States shall be entitled to apply to Wyoming for the right to use water additional to that decreed herein for the purposes described in paragraph IV.K.5.b.(1)(a),(b),(c) and (d) of this section of the Decree. Such applications shall be made and determined solely according to Wyoming law.

6. Water Use for Fighting Forest Fires on the Shoshone and Bighorn National Forests

a. Bighorn National Forest

In this adjudication, the United States claimed rights to use unquantified amounts of water for controlling and suppressing forest fires on the Bighorn National Forest.

The United States shall have the right to use whatever quantity of water is required to control or suppress forest fires on the Bighorn National Forest. The priority date shall be the date the land involved was reserved from the public domain. This paragraph shall not be interpreted, however, to prevent Wyoming or any other person or entity from seeking all such redress as may be allowed by law for damages or other relief resulting from the United States' use of water for the control and suppression of forest fires on the Bighorn National Forest in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming.

b. Shoshone National Forest

In this adjudication, the United States claimed the general and unquantified right to water stock on the streams, lakes, and other sources on the Shoshone National Forest. The Court finds that it is not possible to quantify the amounts of water or specify the place of use and further finds that the quantities involved are de minimus.

The United States shall have the right to water stock with a priority date of June 12, 1960, in any stream, lake or other source on the Shoshone National Forest. This paragraph shall not be interpreted, however, to prevent Wyoming or any other person or entity from seeking all such redress as may be allowed by law for damages resulting from the United States' use of water for general stockwatering purposes on the Shoshone National Forest in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming.

L. Power Site Withdrawals

In its Statement of Claims in this adjudication, the United States claimed a reserved water right in numerous water power site withdrawals. Said rights were claimed for the generation of hydroelectric power at those sites.

On December 5, 1980, the Court, on the motion of Wyoming, dismissed all of these claims, with prejudice. The Court hereby confirms and adopts the dismissal, with prejudice, of said claims. The United States shall have no reserved water right or any other federal water right for any purpose in or on behalf of any power site withdrawals within Water Division No. 3, Wyoming. No claim shall be made by the United States subsequent to the date of this Decree for any water rights based on any theory of federal law in the above or any other water power site withdrawals in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming. This paragraph is not intended to bar the United States from applying to Wyoming for permits or certificates for water rights on behalf of such

b. Shoshone National Forest

In this adjudication, the United States claimed rights to use unquantified amounts of water for controlling and suppressing forest fires on the Shoshone National Forest.

The United States shall have the right to use whatever quantity of water is required to control or suppress forest fires on the Shoshone National Forest. The priority date shall be the date the land involved was reserved from the public domain. This paragraph shall not be interpreted, however, to prevent Wyoming or any other person or entity from seeking all such redress as may be allowed by law for damages or other relief resulting from the United States' use of water for the control and suppression of forest fires on the Shoshone National Forest in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming.

7. General Stockwatering on the Bighorn and Shoshone National Forests

a. Bighorn National Forest

In this adjudication, the United States claimed the general and unquantified right to water stock on the streams, lakes, and other sources on the Bighorn National Forest. The Court finds that it is not possible to quantify the amounts of water or specify the place of use and further finds that the quantities involved are de minimus.

The United States shall have the right to water stock with a priority date of June 12, 1960, in any stream, lake or other source on the Bighorn National Forest. This paragraph shall not be interpreted, however, to prevent Wyoming or any other person or entity from seeking all such redress as may be allowed by law for damages resulting from the United States' use of water for general stockwatering purposes on the Bighorn National Forest in Water Division No. 3, Wyoming.

withdrawals. Such applications shall be made and determined under Wyoming law.

M. Final Adjudication

The rights decreed herein are intended to be a final adjudication of all rights which the United States has claimed or could have claimed within Water Division No. 3, Wyoming, as part of this general adjudication under either federal or state law with the exception of:

1. Those on behalf of the Shoshone and Arapahoe Tribes of the Wind River Indian Reservation; and
2. The following state water rights claimed by the United States and noted under this Decree whose status shall subsequently be determined by this Court:
 - a. Those Public Water Reserves which are the subject of state-awarded permits or certificates, IV.C.4;
 - b. Those Bureau of Land Management Wells Located on Non-Reserved Public Lands which are the subject of state-awarded permits or certificates, IV.F.2.;
 - c. Those Bureau of Land Management Reservoirs Located on Non-Reserved Public Lands which are the subject of state-awarded permits or certificates, IV.G.2.;
 - d. Bureau of Reclamation, IV.H.;
 - e. Those United States Forest Service Discrete Water Uses, Bighorn National Forest, IV.K.4.a.(1)(d), and Shoshone National Forest, IV.K.4.b.(1)(d) which are the subject of state-awarded permits or certificates; and

- f. Those United States Forest Service Other Discrete Uses, Bighorn National Forest, IV.K.4.a.(2)(b), and Shoshone National Forest, IV.K.4.b.(2)(b), which are the subject of state-awarded permits or certificates.

Conclusions of Law

Timely and adequate notice of the filing and of the contents of this Decree herein was given in the manner provided by law, and the order of the Court, and the Court has jurisdiction over all persons or entities affected hereby, whether or not they have appeared.

This Decree is entered based upon settlement and compromise of the United States claims in this case, and the findings of fact and conclusions of law set forth herein have not been litigated. Nothing in this Decree shall be construed or interpreted to establish any standard to be used for the quantification of federal reserved water rights in any other judicial proceeding, or as precedent for the existence or quantification of federal reserved water rights in any other proceeding.

Nothing in this Decree shall be interpreted to require federal agencies or officers to act in a manner inconsistent with applicable federal, state, or local law, or to obligate or pay funds in contravention of the Anti-Deficiency Act, 31 U.S.C. § 1341.

Judgment and Decree

IT IS HEREBY THE DECREE OF THE COURT:

The water rights of the United States of America to quantities of water in Wyoming Water Division 3 are granted as set forth in this Decree and subject to the limitations of this Decree.

Each of the foregoing findings of fact and conclusions of law is incorporated herein as if set out in full and is hereby modified to the extent necessary to make it a Decree of the Court.

Pursuant to Wyo. R. Civ. P. 54(b), the Court FINDS that there is no just reason to delay entry of final judgment on the claims described herein.

THE COURT, THEREFORE, ORDERS and directs that pursuant to Wyo. R. Civ. P. 58, the Clerk of this Court shall immediately enter this Decree on the Journal of the Court.
