about 7:30 a.m. the following people met at my house in Eagle River: rie Lewis, Lotte Kramer, Dick Barquist, and Roger Crosby. Normally drive from there to Independence Mine Ski Area takes about 1% hours, because of several delays in fitting chains on our two cars and hing some people who didn't put on theirs, we didn't arrive until at 10:30.

Ter changing boots and having a cup of coffee at the lodge, where Bill vers joined the party, we left the area at 11:00 and skied down parallel west of the road for about a mile. Then we headed west up the valley ding to Hatcher Pass. We were all on skis, some using climbers and using climbing wax. We proceeded Slowly and reached the pass about on Some of us then climbed the small peak south of the pass.

l and Sally Hague and Mac and Lucy Myers, who arrived at the lodge er we'd gotten underway, followed us up the pass on skis and made much ter time than the first party.

ing back down the valley was a pleasant and easy downhill run. We . had a small climb back up to the ski area, although it seemed long in the day's activities. The last of us reached the ski area about p.m.

Fortified Oat Flakes were so deliciously trimmed with Milkman, sugar and ands of blueberries that it was 8 the next morning before we waddled away up valley. Fortified as we were, and encouraged endlessly by Violets, the der Lasn's famous dog, we should have made good time. But you must allow our lack of willpower concerning blueberries. I could write a dissertation this delicacy, but suffice it to say, it took us four hours to cover the four el miles around the north shore of Eagle Lake to the 500' cascade where the lley steepens. Another thing we discovered en route is how comfortable wel bars can be for naps.

the sun cruised by its apex, we began getting our bods in gear. Also, tunately, blueberries began to dwindle. We followed Bill Hauser's and Bob deem's route to the col between "Icy Peak" 6810 and our "Cantata Peak" 6410.

We Jult Scree for Bob Hansen's account.) From that pass we had our first od look at the gendarmed southeast ridge. Rock on the crest looked temptingly lid, but it was 3 p.m., so we thought we'd do best to follow the line of ast resistance. A talus shelf contouring around the right side of the ridge mad best, so we followed it a quarter mile or so to the base of a decree med best, so we followed it a quarter mile or so to the base of a deep, minent couloir. We scrambled several hundred feet up this dark, rotten wice until a steep section forced us to rope up.

til this point, Violets had run circles around us. But here, no amount of termination could compensate for her tendency to overbalance. Again and again a tried to follow Karen up the pitch. Again and again she peeled off with inous sounds of scraping and scratching followed by the rumble of a Chugach wifall and the odor of burnt rock dust. Our hearts were in our mouths as she finally retreated to the bottom of the couloir to seek a better route.

ren and I were on our second roped pitch (F5) when we spotted Violets heading on our gully, deftly dodging the cannonade we couldn't help dislodging. show she reached the foot of the steep section and began singing a most urnful lament. The quavering, sorrowful howls that reverberated up the ack gully were completely unnerving. I suggested turning back, but luckily gully were completely unnerving. I suggested turning back, but luckily ren wouldn't hear of it. The third roped pitch proved to be much better: k was more solid; we crested the gentle ridge, and best of all, we couldn't in the Violets as well!

So we seem to this small, anded summit before, but as far as we could tell. no people had. So we unded summit before, but as far as we could tell, no people had. So we llected our first first-ascent summit kiss and then set to work: I to build The state of the s tairn and place a register, and Karen to photograph the sunset over Cook let.

mow flurry accompanied us down the scrambles to the three roped pitches of mclimbing where Karen did a fine job of setting up belays in the rotten lly. The howling of Violets, of course, got louder as we got lower, and tally, there was old Violets, just really flipped out to see us again! or old dog-- Hans is going to have to sew her a direct-aid harness! was dark by the time we reached the pass, so we bivouaced curled up around Plets until the moon came up. Thus we passed the night, alternately stumbling to shadow and bivouscing. We reached firewood for our fourth and final Pousc and finished the night in a comfortable series of hour-long catnaps Pled Indian fashion around the fire. Store of

A NOTE ON THE NAME "CANTATA PEAK"

Karen Courtright

Since Symphony Lake has been submitted as a name for the small lake southeast of Eagle Lake, and in keeping with the idea of naming geographical features in the same area with related thematic names—in this case musical terms—we decided to name 6410' "Cantata Peak" to continue the musical idea started by Bill Hauser's suggestion of the name Symphony Lake.

bits and pieces

MCA equipment for rental and use by members will be at the Merricks' home, 1827 E. 27th, during December and early January because Dave and carol DeVoe will be away during that time. Merrick phone: 272-5243.

Since meetings will henceforth be on the second moMonday of each month, Scree will come out sometime during the previous week. This means that scree will come out sometime during the previous week. This means articles about trips, especially all scheduled club trips and first ascents, should be in to the Scree editor ten (10) days before the meeting date! Since Scree is usually put together and typed on the weekend before the weekend before the meeting and actually run off on weekend before the weekend before the meeting and actually run off on the Monday before the meeting, it means trip leaders and other people with material for Scree will have to move up their schedules along with the Scree staff! Please send all material to Box 4-964, Anchorage 99503, or call 277-0846 with stuff for bits and pieces. NOTE: All scheduled MCA trips should have an account written of them regardless of the success or failure of the attempt—at least other people who may wish to try the same trip will have a better idea of what they may have to contend with!

Address, telephone, or name corrections for the membership list should be sent to Box 4-964.

January Scree will go only to paid up members of MCA. Dues: adult membership, $5.00; junior membership (under 18), $2.50; family membership, $7.50; out-of-town (over 50 miles from Anchorage), $2.50.

Reservations are now being taken for a new batch of super-puppies, maternalized by Fialotta (Violets) van der Laan (famous ECA super-dog) and sired by an Irish Setter. The litter is due about December 15th, and early reservations are recommended for your very own Black Irish Labrador. Call a van der Laan, 277-4251. ***

Bill Hauser writes from New Zealand that he hopes to climb Et Cook and Mt Aspiring this December and January.

Chet Hackney has taken off for six months of travel, mainly in Europe where he plans on climbing the Matterhorn and other peaks.

Remember that THIRTY HIKES IN ALASKA is on sale at MCA meetings... a good Christmas present for Alaskans and friends in the smaller states.

The Kountain Conservation Committee met December 1. Art Davidson is the new chairman and will give a report at the next meeting.

Scree is published monthly by the Mountaineering Club of Alaska. Scree staff: Marie Lundstrom, Joanne Merrick, Carol DeVoe, Callie Van der Laan Articles on trips and other material to be published should be sent to Tarie Lundstrom, Box 4-964, Anchorage 99503 or call 277-0846.
